

CHANGES MADE BY PRESIDENT

Civil Service Rules To Apply To The Fourth Class Postoffices In Northwest.

PRESENT OFFICIALS TO TAKE TESTS

Newberry Takes Oath Of Office And Attends First Cabinet Meeting--Keefe Given Place In Department Of Commerce And Labor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—All the fourth class postmasters in the states east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river were today placed in the classified service by an executive order of the President.

To Be Examined.
Hereafter all appointees must undergo a civil service examination. The postmasters now holding the offices will need to take the examinations.

Keefe Appointed.
Daniel J. Keefe, president of the International Longshoremen's Union, of Detroit, was today appointed Commissioner General of Immigration to succeed the late Frank P. Sargent.

Now Sworn In.
Truman H. Newberry was today sworn in as Secretary of the Navy and participated in his first cabinet meeting.

WANT INCREASE FOR THE NORMAL SCHOOLS

Normal Regents Believe Their Schools Are Being Slighted by the State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 1.—The state board of normal school regents, believing that the normal schools of the state are not doing as effective work as they were intended to do, and that these schools were too parsimoniously administered in comparison with the other elements of the state's educational system, particularly the university, decided at the meeting of the regents last evening to demand of the coming legislature a liberal increase of normal school appropriation. The present normal school appropriation is $250,000 a year. The regents propose that this shall be raised in the sum of $125,000 a year and brought up to the sum of $375,000. At the meeting yesterday the representatives of the various schools presented the demands of their respective schools for appropriations, being for improvements, additions, and salaries for new teachers and raises for the old. The largest demand was that from Superior, $65,000 for a dormitory. Other demands were as modest as $10,000. Milwaukee wants $15,000. A legislative committee of five regents will be appointed by Senator Thomas Morris, who is president of the board, and this committee will watch carefully over the interests of the normal schools in the next legislature.

MORE CASES PROVEN AGAINST THE FIRMS

Ludington Firm Admits Rebating on Shipments Sent Out by Rail.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 1.—The Stearns Salt & Lumber company of Ludington pleaded guilty in the United States court here today to six counts charging rebating in connection with the shipments made over the Pere Marquette railroad. Judge Knapp will pass sentence tomorrow. The company recently pleaded guilty to twenty counts and was fined twenty thousand dollars.

CHARGE REBATING IN A COMPLAINT FILED

St. Paul Road Faces Charges Made by Interstate Commerce Commission.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Dec. 1.—The federal grand jury today began the investigation of rebate charges made against the St. Paul railroad by the agent of the Interstate commerce commission.

CROSS EXAMINATION FOR STANDARD OIL

Kellogg Begins His Probe Into the Secrets of the Great Archbold's Mind.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Dec. 1.—John D. Archbold's direct examination in the Standard Oil hearing was completed today and his cross examination by Frank H. Kellogg for the government began. Archbold denied he resigned as director of the Anglo-American company as a result of the present investigation.

ONE THOUSAND MEN STARTED WORK TODAY

Old Open Hearth Department of Illinois Steel Company Is In Operation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Dec. 1.—After an illness of thirteen months, the Old Open Hearth department of the Illinois Steel company plant in South Chicago was reopened today and a thousand men resumed work.

HOLD EXAMINATIONS ON SATURDAY NEXT

Positions in the Coming Legislature Are Being Eagerly Sought by Many.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 1.—Next Saturday nearly 1,000 young men from all over the state of Wisconsin will take competitive examinations for positions in the legislative service during the coming session. These positions pay from $2 to $3 a day, with pay for every day in the week, and are eagerly sought, particularly by students in the university, who are able to earn a goodly sum of money and continue their studies without serious interruption.

CHIEF OF POLICE DROWNED IN BAY

Circumstances Surrounding Death of Frisco Chief Are Still In Mystery.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 1.—William J. Hickey, for over a year chief of police of this city, was drowned in the bay last night. His body has not yet been recovered. Hickey was returning to the city from Belvidere in the police launch "Patrol" and when the boat arrived it was discovered that he was missing, though Engineer Murphy, the only other occupant of the boat, did not see him fall overboard.

DAVIDSON PREPARING AN ANNUAL MESSAGE

Receiving Reports from Heads of State Institutions to Report Their Condition to Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 1.—Governor Davidson is receiving from the heads of the many departments of the state government the biennial reports from which he will inform himself as to the needs of the state in the matter of legislation to be recommended by him in his message to the next legislature. Some of the state officers have taken occasion to make public their reports, in which they have promulgated messages of their own and recommended legislation. Whether the chief executive will second their demands remains to be seen.

SECURED A JURY TO TRY CHARLES DAVIS

Man Alleged to Have Shot Dr. Frederick Rustin Will Soon Be Tried.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Omaha, Neb., Dec. 1.—The jury to try Charles Davis on the charge of murdering Dr. Frederick Rustin was completed today.

GOT FIVE THOUSAND AT ILLINOIS BANK

Port Byron the Scene of Daring Robbery—Men Escape on Hired Car.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Port Byron, Ill., Dec. 1.—Burghers blew open the vault of the State bank early today and escaped on a hired car with nearly five thousand dollars.

WIRES ACCEPTANCE OF APPOINTMENT

Herbert L. Satterlee Will Be the Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—Herbert L. Satterlee of New York today wired the president his acceptance of the appointment as assistant secretary of the navy.

DECEMBER FORECASTS.

GOVERNORS HEARING COMMITTEES REPORT

Chief Executives of Practically All States Gather to Hear Conservatism Reports.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—Governors of practically all of the states and territories, or other representatives specially chosen, assembled in Washington today to listen to reports on the progress of the movement for the conservation of the country's natural resources. The National Conservation of Resources Commission, which was appointed at the conference held here last May, is also holding a meeting to organize and to give its members an opportunity to confer with the governors on the work already done and the plans for the future of the movement.

The reports to be presented on the work accomplished during the past six months are of a most gratifying nature. In more than half the states commissions have been appointed and in the Pacific Northwest and in New England and in many of the intervening states conferences have been held recently to consider the great public question of conserving the natural resources of the various commonwealths.

While in many states the movement is under good headway, the national commission, which is to look after the natural resources of the country at large, has likewise accomplished substantial results since the May conference. These results are to be reported and discussed at the present conference. The commission has practically completed an inventory of the nation's natural resources, the first thorough inventory of its kind ever made by the federal government. Interesting summaries on the waters, forests, lands and minerals of the United States have been completed by experts who have been steadily at work on them for nearly six months. Upon these reports the future work of the commission is to be based.

DISCUSS TOPICS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Fifth Triennial Council of Jewish Women Meets in Cincinnati
Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 1.—Delegates from all parts of the country assembled in this city today for the fifth triennial convention of the Council of Jewish Women, which has a membership of nearly 10,000. The opening day was devoted to a meeting of the national committee and to the address of the president, Mrs. Hugo Rosenborg of Pittsburgh. Wednesday and Thursday will be largely taken up by reports of progressive work on the part of various departments of the organization. Industrial education, practical philanthropy, aids to immigrants and other topics of general public interest will receive attention. The visiting delegates are being entertained by the leading Jewish families of Cincinnati and its suburbs. Besides this arrangement a general entertainment and reception committee has prepared for the comforts of the guests.

CONDITION OF POPE IS LITTLE BETTER

Is Suffering from Cold in the Head—Reports Today Are Favorable.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, Dec. 1.—The condition of the Pope, who is suffering from a cold, is today a little better.

Donnerstag Very Ill: Albert Donnerstag, one of the two alleged counterfeiters who were brought here for safekeeping some weeks ago, is very ill at the county jail. He has apparently never fully recovered from the exposure and suffering incident to his escape and long flight from the Duane county battle, and complaints of terrible pains in the stomach. Dr. Fred Sutherland is attending him.

FRUIT GROWERS OF WEST IN MEETING

Northwest Fruit Growers Association and Oregon Society Arrange Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Portland, Ore., Dec. 1.—Leading fruit growers, packers and shippers of Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Utah and British Columbia gathered in this city today for the big convention arranged under the auspices of the Northwest Fruit Growers' association and the Oregon State Horticultural society. The convention will be in session four days. In conjunction with the meeting there is being held an elaborate display of orchard products illustrating the importance of the fruit growing industry in the Northwest.

BIG FLEET IS NOW HOMEBWARD BOUND

Under Orders From Navy Department Battleships to Leave Manila
Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—The big Atlantic battleship fleet under command of Rear Admiral Sperry has completed the first half of its journey around the world and is now homeward bound. Under orders from the Navy Department the battleships are to take their departure from Manila today. Two weeks will bring the fleet to Colombo, Ceylon, where a stay of six days will be made. From Colombo the fleet will proceed direct to the Suez canal. The ships will pass through the canal as expeditiously as possible and then the fleet will split into four divisions, each division visiting a different Mediterranean port, reassembling at Gibraltar on Feb. 3. They will proceed thence direct to the United States and are due to arrive at Hampton Roads on Feb. 22.

FEDERAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES OF CHRIST

Aim is to Bring About a Closer Union of the Different Denominations.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 1.—Distinguished divines and laymen representing various religious denominations are gathering in this city to take part in the meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which aims to bring about a closer union of the different denominations in various branches of their work. The sessions of the council will begin tomorrow and continue through the remainder of the week.

A leading feature of the gathering will be the evening mass meetings in the Academy of Music, which will be addressed by men of wide prominence. Scheduled among the speakers are Gov. Ames of South Carolina, Gov. Hoch of Kansas, Gov. Hughes of New York, Judge Grosscup of Chicago, Rev. Washington Gladden of Columbus, Ohio, and Bishops Whitelock, Talbot and Whitaker of the Episcopal church.

DES MOINES IS NOW AT PORT AU PRINCE

American Cruiser Arrives at Haitian Port—Night Passed Off Quietly.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, Dec. 1.—The American cruiser Des Moines came into this port this morning. The night passed without any serious outbreak, but the government showed by its precautions that it expected an attack at any moment.

FIGHT ON MAYORALTY IN CITY OF ATLANTA

Regular Democratic Nominees to Face Strong Opposing Candidates.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 1.—Following a campaign that for intensity and bitterness has never been equaled in this city, an election will be held tomorrow for mayor and members of the city council. Interest in the election centers wholly in the mayoralty contest. For the first time in years the regular democratic nominee for the office is faced to face with a strong opposing candidate. As a result it is expected the vote will be the largest ever polled in a city election in Atlanta.

The democratic nominee nominated for mayor James G. Woodward, who had already served two terms in the office. In Woodward's terms as mayor his speech here and in Washington and elsewhere gave Atlanta much notoriety, and his nomination for a third term was a surprise. But the climax came early in November, a few weeks after his nomination, when he and ex-Police Commissioner William Oldknow were arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The arrests came as a result of an invasion of the red light district by Woodward and Oldknow in which it was alleged that certain women of the district were handled so roughly that they appealed to the police.

As soon as the scandal became known leading business men of the city started a movement to defeat Woodward for the mayoralty. A mass meeting was held and a committee of twenty-five prominent citizens were selected to choose an opposition candidate and report. The candidate selected was Robert F. Maddox, a banker and business man with a clean record. An active campaign in behalf of Mr. Maddox was immediately started and the supporters of the movement declare they have no doubt of Woodward's defeat at the polls tomorrow.

BIRTHDAY OF QUEEN IS OBSERVED TODAY

United Kingdom and Rest of British Empire Celebrates Natal
Day of Ruler.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Dec. 1.—The United Kingdom, together with other portions of the British empire, today paid the customary tribute to Queen Alexandra on the occasion of her birthday. It was the Queen's sixty-fourth anniversary. Greetings from all parts of the world were received, flags were displayed everywhere and there were the usual salutes at the naval and military stations.

Queen Alexandra spent the day at Sandringham, where there was an unusually large gathering of the royal family in celebration of the occasion. At the command of King Edward a company traveled from London to Sandringham to give a special performance of E. Alfred Suto's new play, "The Builder of Bridges."

Queen Alexandra is in excellent health. Despite her sixty-four years and the fact that she has nine grandchildren, her Majesty still retains her youthful beauty. Since her elevation from the court of Denmark to that of England Alexandra has seen numerous rivals in beauty forced by premature loss of loveliness to resign their claim. The empresses of France and Austria were her contemporaries, and their radiance and perfection of features all but threw her into the shade.

King Edward has aged far more rapidly than his glorious consort. As the years have rolled on the queen has kept her figure and her freshness, her grace of movement, her smooth cheek and full, bright eyes, and at three-score and three drives out with the king, looking very much like an eldest daughter instead of a wife but eighteen months his junior.

Mercury Fell 32 Degrees: According to A. C. Thorpe, the thermometer registered 46 degrees above zero at six o'clock yesterday morning and 14 above zero at the same hour this morning, showing a drop in the temperature of 32 degrees within twenty-four hours.

CLAIM NEW COURTS NEEDED IN NORTHERN SECTION NOW

Residents Of Judge Fruit's District Want It Divided--Want New Court In La Crosse County.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 1.—Efforts are being made to establish a municipal court in La Crosse county and a bill is being drafted which will be presented to the legislature adding for aid.

Much Agitation.
Agitation is going on all over the sixth judicial circuit to provide for a division of this circuit or a shifting of counties to some other circuit in order to give relief to Judge Fruit of this city.

The Circuit.
One of the plans proposed is the creation of an entirely new circuit to be composed of the following counties: Eau Claire, Chippewa, Jackson and Sawyer and the shifting of Juneau and Trempealeau counties to Judge O'Neill's circuit.

ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY FOR STATE SUPERINTENDENCY

Oshkosh Man Seeks To Succeed Present Man In Charge Of State Educational Branches.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Oshkosh, Wis., Dec. 1.—Prof. W. C. Hewitt of the Oshkosh normal school faculty has announced himself a candidate for state superintendent of schools. Prof. Hewitt has been a member of the normal school faculty for the last seventeen years and is fifth in order of seniority. He is an instructor of school economics and is a conductor of institutes. In this last capacity he has been called upon to conduct institutes in many parts of the state and is widely acquainted. Mr. Hewitt is prominent socially, also.

OWEN IS EXONERATED BY THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Milwaukee Postmaster Not Guilty Of Charges Brought Against Him By Former Employee.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 1.—Postmaster David C. Owen is completely vindicated of the charge made against him by Jas. P. Gaffney, former assistant cashier at the postoffice, by the federal grand jury at the report submitted this morning. The jury by a unanimous vote decided that the charge was without merit and was substantially groundless. That Mr. Owen has administered to his office faithfully and with absolute honesty, and that while there has been practice at the postoffice that are not contained in the regulations, they were evidently for the good of the service.

TODAY'S CHICAGO MARKET PRICES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Dec. 1.

Cattle
Market receipts, estimated 3,500.
Market, strong, 10c higher.
Heaves, 3.50@7.75.
Texans, 2.60@4.50.
Westerns, 2.25@6.75.
Stockers and feeders, 2.70@4.70.
Calves, 5.00@7.00.
Cows and heifers, 1.60@5.00.

Hogs
Market, 26,000.
Market, 6c higher.
Light, 5.00@5.25.
Mixed, 5.25@6.10.
Heavy, 5.40@6.10.
Rough, 5.40@6.50.
Good to choice heavy, 5.00@6.10.
Pigs, 3.70@4.50.
Bulk of sales, 5.55@5.90.

Sheep
Market, strong, 10c higher.
Native, 2.50@4.80.
Western, 2.50@4.70.
Yearlings, 4.70@5.00.
Lambs, 4.00@6.70.
Western lambs, 4.00@6.40.

Wheat
May—Opening, 1.08 1/2@1.09; high, 1.09 1/2@1.10; low, 1.08 1/2; closing, 1.09 1/2 asked.
July—Opening, 1.01 1/2@1.02 1/2; high, 1.02 1/2; low, 1.01 1/2; closing, 1.02 1/2 asked.
Dec.—Opening, 1.04 1/2@1.05; high, 1.05 1/2; low, 1.04; closing, 1.05 1/2.

Rye
Closing—75@76.
Dec.—74.
May—73 1/2.

Barley
Closing—57@61.
May—62 1/2@63.
Sept.—62 1/2@63.
Dec.—61 1/2@62.

Oats
May—61 1/2@62.
July—61 1/2@62.
Dec.—61 1/2@62.

Poultry
Turkeys—14.
Springers—11.
Chickens—8 1/2@9 1/2.

Butter
Creamery—22@23.
Dairy—21@22.
Eggs—30.

Stock Cossip.
It is reported in the yards today that the closing of the ports of New York and Philadelphia for stock export shipments would make some difference with the export trade for the holidays which is usually exceptionally heavy. In fact some of the buyers for foreign markets were unable to change their reservations to other ports and kept out of the ring yesterday and today.

The Shipments.
About 27,500 carloads, including 307,167 head of cattle, 27,773 calves, 819,157 hogs, 459,132 sheep, and 5,213 horses were received at the Chicago stockyards during the month of November. The number of carloads was

JANESVILLE MARKETS

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 1.

Feed.
New Bar Corn—$14.50 per ton.
Corn Meal—$1.40 per 100 lbs.
Feed Corn and Oats—$28 ton.
Standard Middlings—$25@26.
Oat Meal—$1.70@1.80 per cwt.
Bran—$25@26 per ton.

Cattle
New Cows—$14@15.
Hay—$8 per ton.
Straw—$5@6 per ton.
Rye and Barley.
Rye—72c for 60 lbs.
Barley—50c.

Butter and Eggs.
Creamery Butter—30 1/2c.
Dairy Butter—27@28c.
Eggs, Fresh—25@26c.

Vegetables.
Potatoes—60@65c bu.
Rutabagas—50@60c bu.
Onions—60@75c bu.
Squash—$1.00@1.25 doz.
Cucumbers—50c bu.

Elgin Butter Market
To patron of Elgin Butter Market
Train today pulled out from Elgin at 3:00; total output for week in this district, 641,900 lbs.

FOUND DEAD IN HER MAIL WAGON TODAY

Woman Mail Carrier on Route From Brookhead to Avon Died in Wagon
This Afternoon.

Mrs. Lane, one of the few women rural mail carriers in the United States was found dead in her mail cart nine miles from Brookhead near Mr. Stoke's gate this afternoon. She traveled over the route from Brookhead through the town of Avon,

Science and Invention

THE WORLD ON A STRING

Device for Keeping Globes Out of the Way in Schoolrooms.

Atlas is far outclassed today, for through the ingenuity of a man in Illinois a two-pound "schoolman" can sink the world up to the ceiling with one hand. This device is for use in classrooms where space is at a premium. The globe is encircled by a meridian ring with flanges on either side. A yoke, with hooks on the ends, engages these flanges and by means of the hooks the whole apparatus is attached to the ceiling by pulleys. In this way it can be lowered to a convenient height when needed and pulled up out of the way when not in use. The meridian ring can be turned around to any position, as it slides on the yoke, and the globe, of course, is pivoted on the ring and can be rolled in the other direction. Two cords support the globe so that its movement up and down is even and both cords are carried through a third pulley and meet in a handle, which hangs along the wall where the teacher can reach it.

PULLS UP OR DOWN AT WILL.

IMPROVED COFFEE URN

Touch the Spigot With Rim of Cup and Coffee Runs Out.

Any methods adopted by the owners of restaurants and cafes to hasten the service and shorten the time required to fill the customer's order, are always welcomed. The busy business man has time to spare for the morning meal, generally forcing it down as quickly as possible. To facilitate matters a Philadelphia has devised and patented an ingenious attachment for coffee urns which saves a great deal of time and annoyance. This consists of an automatic cut-off attached to the spigot. There is no turning of handles. With an arm full of dishes on one side and an empty cup and saucer in the other, the waiter merely presses the cup against the spigot and the coffee runs out. With such pressure on the automatic spigot only enough coffee passes to fill the cup. The time formerly consumed in depositing the cup and turning on the spigot is eliminated. The waiter simply presses the rim of the cup against the spigot and in a few seconds has a cup full of coffee, at the same time retreating the other arm full of dishes.

NO SHOOTING TO TURN.

PREVENTS JARRING HANDS

Attachment for Nail Punches, Rock Drills, Etc., to Protect Operator.

Even the hardest kind of labor can be made easy and less exacting on the worker, as evidenced by the non-jarring attachment for tools shown here. Naturally, when tools are struck by a heavy hammer or mallet, the hands of the operator holding the tool are jarred to an extent depending upon the force of the blow. What this jarring can be eliminated is shown by this attachment. It can be applied to a variety of mechanical tools, such as nail punches, rock drills, etc. The attachment consists of a sleeve which fits over a handle

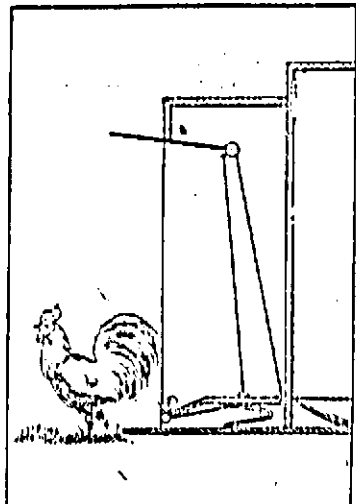

HANDS PROTECTED FROM JARRING

having a reduced diameter, around which a coil spring is placed. This spring is stiff enough to hold the tool firmly for use, so that the pull can be placed exactly on the desired spot, but is sufficiently elastic to relieve the hand of any shock when the blow is struck. The coil spring also enables the tool to be pressed firmly against the material, so that the operator may be sure that it is in the right position, and yet when the blow is delivered, the shock is taken up by the spring and not felt by the hand or arm, affording a grateful relief to the nerves.

HEN LOCKS HER EGGS IN

Nest Has Doors That Close Automatically as Chicken Leaves.

Every hen is now her own policeman, since an Iowa man has given her case his attention. This man has invented a nest with doors that close automatically when the chicken leaves and remains closed until some person opens them. The nest, too, he fitted with a spring lock that cannot be opened except by the owner, if the latter so desires. The doors of the nest fold inward and are operated by means of a spring, which is released by the weight of Mrs. Hen as she steps unobtrusively out, cocking promptly in the knowledge that she has done her duty by society. Thus closed, the nest is proof against the predatory visits of the weasel or any other barnyard thief, to say nothing of other chickens of scandalous tendencies. The whole device is a simple one, and could probably be made by a farmer with a mechanical turn of mind by substituting weights and pulleys for springs. This method saving in eggs through such precautions at the season a considerable sum of money.

HER WEIGHT RELEASES SPRING.

J. HAMPTON MOORE.

The Atlantic Deep Waterways association, which convenes in Baltimore this week, will be called to order by the president, J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia and congress- man from the Third Pennsylvania district. Mr. Moore has fathered the cause of deep waterways along the Atlantic coast in the lower branch of congress and has done yeoman service in making the Delaware river a great deep water highway.

OUR FOUR YEAR QUEENS.

MRS. LUCRETIA (RUDOLPH) GARFIELD, WIFE OF PRESIDENT GARFIELD AND MISTRESS OF THE WHITE HOUSE FROM MARCH TO SEPTEMBER, 1881.

Mrs. Garfield endured the White house with reluctance. She was not socially inclined and entered upon her duties timidly. She was devoted to her husband and to her home life and cared little or nothing for the glare and glamour of the social world. She was not popular in social circles and made little or no impression during her brief sojourn at the White house. She was accused of lacking courage, but when her husband lay for days between life and death at the hands of the assassin's bullet, she showed a fortitude and strength of character which won her universal praise. During these long, weary days she was constantly by her husband's side and showed a devotion which was almost self-sacrifice.

Mrs. Garfield's brief reign was over in September, after only seven months spent in the national capital. She then retired to seclusion.

MAGNOLIA.

W. Magnolia, Dec. 1.—The Thanksgiving dinner held by the Helpers' union at Mrs. George Townsend's was largely attended and much enjoyed.

Quite a bit of tobacco has been stripped out the past week. The Local Workers' society elected the following officers to serve the coming year: President, Mrs. E. B. Arnold; vice-president, Nina Worthing; secretary, Paul Chase; treasurer, David Andrew; organist, Bessie Townsend.

The young people enjoyed a dance at the hall Thanksgiving night. Mr. Hyatt Weaver and son Clayton of Evansville made a business trip here Saturday.

Mr. Hanson has moved into Ariel Worthing's tenant house. Miss Margaret Lee spent a part of last week at home.

Mr. Goble Royall has moved onto the Henry Austin farm recently vacated by H. Hansen. Mr. Howard and Miss Minnie Edwards attended the Pandora in Orfordville Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edwards of Jansville are rejoicing over the arrival of a bright baby girl.

Mr. Lute McCoy was a Jansville visitor one day last week. Our local teachers enjoyed the Thanksgiving vacation of two days.

The A. C. Church conference which convenes in Watertown, Wis., this week will be attended by some of the delegates chosen from the A. C. church of this place.

Mrs. Allie Wood entertained relatives from Jansville Sunday. Mrs. Sophia Harvey spent Sunday at the home of Geo. Townsend.

SHOPIERE.

Shoptore, Nov. 30.—A full attendance is desired at the regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors on next Thursday as the election of officers for the ensuing year will occur at that time.

The oyster supper which was to have been given on last Wednesday evening was postponed one week on account of the weather. The supper will be served on next Wednesday evening, Dec. 2nd.

Miss Olson sang two beautiful solos on Sunday morning at the Congregational church. The people who did not attend the service missed a fine treat.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown spent Thanksgiving with their daughters in Chicago. Mrs. Harry Culliton and Mrs. C. W. Culliton. Mr. Brown returned on Friday evening and Mrs. Brown remained for a few days later.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Truesdell of Rockford spent Thanksgiving at the parental home with Mr. and Mrs. Aloyn Truesdell.

Remember the church fair and supper Wednesday, Dec. 9th. Open afternoon and evening. Many useful articles will be for sale. Supper will be served beginning at six o'clock.

Archie Allen and wife of Chicago and Mrs. Chas. Yates and children of Jansville ate Thanksgiving dinner with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Allen.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Case gathered around their dinner table on Thursday last. Mr. and Mrs. Lovel Case of Jansville and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Case of Clinton were present, besides the members of the family residing here, and Mr. and Mrs. Cook of Jansville.

SOUTHWEST LIMA. Southwest Lima, Dec. 1.—The rain of the past week was a great benefit to farmers.

Thanksgiving was very quiet in this vicinity. Mrs. Jno. Lockner and Thos. Branks attended the funeral of their cousin, Miss V. Sweeney, in Edgerton, Sunday.

Jno. Waldman of Jansville was a caller in this vicinity the latter part of the week.

D. G. Cummings has been doctoring a horse for Chas. Smith, Jno. Lockner, Will Dixon, D. G. Cummings and Thos. Branks were in Whitewater Saturday.

Epitome of India. Over the door of the great Jain temple at Ahmedabad, India, are written the words: "Low caste servants and dogs are not allowed to enter here." A traveler has declared the temple and the words to be an epitome of India.

Much has been written about the famous play, "The Thief," which is promised at the Myers theatre for next Wednesday evening. Leading editors have been inspired by it and powerful sermons preached about it. And the play would seem to have done it any other heads (Lord Derwent, the playwright, had conceived "The Thief," its strength and originality would have commanded similar attention just as fully, say the leading critics. The play tells the story of a wife who plitfully steals money to purchase dresses and adornments with which to enhance charming her husband. Harassed by agony she confesses her guilt to him, pleads that she stole in order to possess his love. The play does not seem to justify her in that course, yet it shields her in a way, it is said.

FIRST "23" CONGRESSMAN COMES FROM NEBRASKA.

Hastings, Neb.—The name of G. W. Norris, Republican nominee for congressman in the Fifth district, is finally figured at 23. This result is determined in all counties received by the republican congressional committee. Mr. Norris is not disturbed over the size of his majority. "Yes I know '23' is the 'hook' number," he said today. "It's slang for 'get out.' In this case, however, I think the '23' is meant for my opponent. He is the one who got the hook."

NORTH CENTER. North Center, Nov. 30.—Some of the farmers here are stripping their tobacco. Mrs. Ross Cunningham has returned to her home in Jansville. Mr. and Mrs. Scott Berry entertained quite a few people on Thanksgiving day. L. Barrett and daughter Helen and James Cullen spent Sunday afternoon at Ed Ford's, in Porter. Josie and Catherine Barrett were visitors at the school Friday afternoon. Mrs. J. Brennan and daughter Agnes of Jansville are guests at the home of Miss Kelly. James Cullen spent Thanksgiving day at the home of Scott Berry. The pupils of district No. 3 had the pleasure of encountering the smiling countenance of their former teacher, Miss Lena Walton, at the school here Friday afternoon. She also made a short call on a few of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kersten and daughter Emma were visitors at Mr. Scott's Sunday. Otto Kersten is delivering hogs to Footville parties today.

XMAS POST-CARDS
5 for 5c.
And many others from 1c to 5c.
Also German Post Cards and Booklets.
SMITH'S PHARMACY.
The Retail Store.

When you see
The chestnut burrs,
Then's the time
To buy your furs.

The moderate prices prevailing in our fur department give ample evidence that reliable furs need not be expensive.

We place on sale Wednesday, Thursday and Friday only, Children's White Angora Fur Sets, very suitable for Xmas. presents, regular price of which is $1.50, specially priced per set.....$1.00

HOLME'S STORE

BUY A STOVE NOW

An opportunity to save big money at the

BIG TRUSTEE SALE

Such an opportunity will not be presented again in years. It is a chance of a lifetime.

Save $10.00 to $15.00

Jewel Cook Stove, reservoir, 18-inch oven .....	$22	Peninsula Range, 19-in. oven	$24
Drum, $4.00 value.....	$2.00	Radiant Home Range.....	$28
Unedme Cook Stove, 18-inch .....	$16.50	Jewel Cook Stove, reservoir, 20-inch oven, $32.00 value..	$26
Square Cook Stove, all cast .....	$9.50	No. 7 Radiant Home Base Burner, value $55.00 .....	$42
Jewel Furnace, 28-in. fire pot .....	$80	No. 6 Radiant Home Base Burner, value $50.00 .....	$38
Jewel Furnace, 25-in. fire pot .....	$70	No. 44 Art Garland Base Burner, value $38.00 .....	$30
Aldrian Grate, $90 value.....	$25	No. 55 Art Garland Base Burner, value $42.00 .....	$32.50
No. 18 Quick Meal Steel Range, hot closet and reservoir, $54.00 value .....	$41	No. 66 Art Garland Base Burner, value $48.00 .....	$34.50
Jewel Cast Range, hot closet, reservoir, 20-inch oven, $50.00 value .....	$39	Favorite Base Burner, has been used, but good as new..	$18
Jewel Cast Range, hot shelf and reservoir, 20-inch oven, $38.00 value .....	$28	No. 10 Quick Meal Steel Range, hot closet and reservoir, $52.00 value .....	$39

Everything in stock at proportionately low prices. This Trustee Sale is bonafide in every respect. Not one item in our announcement is misrepresented.

E. W. LOWELL, Trustee

MELBA'S SON AND HIS BEAUTIFUL WIFE, WHO HAS JUST SECURED A DIVORCE.

London—Mrs. George Nesbitt Armstrong, the beautiful and only daughter of Colonel Jocelyn Otway of this city, has secured a divorce from her husband, the son of Madame Melba. The marriage of the couple was a romantic one, the bridegroom being only 21 and the bride 19. Madame Melba gave her son an estate in Ireland and a check of $250,000, while the bride received a handsome dowry from her father. The wedding was an elaborate affair and the guests included many of the social leaders of England. Extreme personal cruelty and misconduct are the grounds on which Mrs. Armstrong secured her divorce.

The Janesville Gazette

Entered at the Postoffice at Janesville, Wisconsin, as second class mail matter.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Daily Edition—By Carrier.
One Month.....$3.00
Three Months.....$8.00
Six Months.....$15.00
One Year.....$28.00
In Advance.
Daily Edition—By Mail.
Cash in Advance.
One Year.....$28.00
Six Months.....$15.00
Three Months.....$8.00
One Month.....$3.00
Long Distance Telephone, No. 77-2.
Business Office.....77-2
Job Room.....77-4

GAZETTE OCTOBER CIRCULATION.

Sworn circulation statement of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette for October, 1908.

DAILY.
1.....45437	4538
2.....45418	4537
3.....45420	4547
4.....45420	4547
5.....45421	4547
6.....45421	4547
7.....45421	4547
8.....45421	4547
9.....45421	4547
10.....45421	4547
11.....45421	4547
12.....45421	4547
13.....45421	4547
14.....45421	4547
15.....45421	4547
16.....45421	4547
Total.....125,502
125,502 divided by 27, total number of issues, 4648 Daily average.
SEMI-WEEKLY.
3.....188521	1847
7.....187024	1847
10.....187828	1828
14.....187831	1834
17.....1879
Total.....16,740
16,740 divided by 8, total number of issues, 1860 Semi-Weekly average.

This is a correct report of the circulation of the Janesville Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette for October, 1908, and represents the actual number of papers printed and circulated.

II. H. BLISS, Business Mgr.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2nd day of November, 1908.

GRACE P. MILLER, Notary Public.

(Seal) My commission expires July 14, 1909.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair and colder tonight, Wednesday fair.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Very few constitutional amendments fall of passage when submitted to the people. This is not because the masses favor them, but because of the support of a fragment of the voters, and the supreme indifference of the great majority.

Four of these amendments were submitted at the last election. The total number of votes cast in the state for president by all the parties represented, was 461,414. While for the most popular amendment, state aid for public highways, but 165,113 votes were recorded, the measure being carried by about 67,000.

Seven counties voted against the proposition to grant state aid for the building of good roads. These were Calumet, Dodge, Kewaunee, Manitowish, Oconto, Sheboygan and Washington. The largest majority against the proposition was cast by Manitowish county, with 661. Washington county came next, with a majority against of 798. In view of the opposition which always has been shown by Kenosha and Lincoln counties against the improvement of the Sheridan drive, it is worth noting that in these counties the good roads amendment carried, in Kenosha county by 1,690, and in Lincoln county by 2,091. Jefferson county voted yes by just ninety-nine majority.

State aid for public highways, total vote, 165,113, majority, 66,645; income tax, total vote, 130,273, majority, 63,249; increasing limit for signing bills, total vote, 112,807, majority, 57,285; electors, total vote, 128,332, majority, 46,230.

These figures demonstrate that two-thirds of the voters of the state are totally indifferent to amendments and suggests the fact that a designing legislature can foist upon the people any sort of an amendment desired and secure its passage with but little effort.

The income tax thus becomes a law with less than 25 per cent of the voters favoring it. A law that Wisconsin has no particular use for.

The people, however, are to be congratulated on the passage of state aid for good roads amendment, for this is practical, and will benefit directly or indirectly all classes of citizens. The experience of these amendments demonstrates that minorities rule, not only in primary elections, but on all questions submitted to the people.

The people are the best governed when they select from neighborhood groups men in whom they have confidence to represent and serve them intelligently.

This is done in all societies, and corporations, because it is the only practical thing to do, and the principle applies with equal force when it comes to voting on a lot of questions which they know but little about and care less.

TARIFF AGITATION

While the iron and steel industries are waiting to some extent for whatever action may be taken on tariff revision, the question is proving less of a disturbing element to business generally, than many feared. This is true because the work of revision is placed in the hands of the friends of protection, and the strong endorsement accorded the republican party in November inspires confidence. Henry Clow, the New York financier, says of the situation:

"Tariff agitation is not having the unsettling effect upon business at this time feared; the fact that many industries are less dependent upon the tariff than formerly and that no radical reductions are probable being responsible for this state of public opinion.

"It is very evident that the tariff is going to be reformed by its friends only, and that no serious unsettlement of business is in sight. Even Mr. Carnegie's remarkable statements had little effect, except to excite the opposition of other manufacturers. Upon steel securities the influence was practically nothing.

"In the merchandise markets prospective revision creates little comment, because importers are carrying small stocks and a reduction in rates would help and not depress this line of business. There is no doubt that judicious and moderate revision of the tariff would be positively stimulating to business.

"The only sufferers would be those who are now enjoying swollen profits, and these concerns could often do equally well by simply using more modern and more economical methods. Free raw materials would be a great advantage to many manufacturers, especially when not produced in this country.

"The tariff upon lumber should receive attention, because it destroys instead of protecting one of our most valuable resources. The tariff on art is also one of several absurdities, since it protects no interests and is positively detrimental to the development of art, which could prosper vastly more in the United States if the best foreign examples were admitted free. This country is now so strong industrially that it has little to fear from foreign competition; our superior methods and enterprise often offsetting the advantages of foreign cheap labor.

"We are quite prepared for a freer intercourse with foreign nations, and no country in the world is a better example of the advantage of unhampered commercial development than the United States with its 16 states and 87,000,000 population enjoying absolute free trade between themselves. Where would this country have been if tariff walls had been erected between its various sections?"

What he says concerning art is true and strenuous efforts are being made to have the duty removed. Many fine collections, the property of Americans, are held in the old world, because of a prohibitive tariff. If this was removed, as it should be, our public and private museums would be greatly enriched, and our people permitted to enjoy the product of other countries, in a field which has been cultivated much more extensively than in this land devoted so largely to commercialism.

The $5,000,000, supposed to have been sent to Miss Elkins by Luigi Amadeo Joseph Ferdinand Francisco Due de Abruzzi, fourth in line of succession to the throne of Italy, proves to be an ordinary piece of glass valued at 9 cents, the mounting of a plain gold ring, and now the inquisitive postmaster at the little town of Elkins is sorry that he spoke.

Secretary Thompson, the aggressive attorney general, has been given to understand by the United States supreme court, that there will be ample time for justice given the Standard Oil company in defending their $25,000,000 Lands suit.

The short course in agriculture is proving a valuable aid to farmers.

Chicago, Ill.—One of the most pathetic sides of the Peter Van Vliessen forgery case is the sudden stock and change which has come to the wife and son. For years they have lived in luxury and been given every pleasure that they might desire. A beautiful home, automobiles, social standing, a loving father and husband.

All this is changed in the course of 24 hours. Today the husband and father is a self-acknowledged forger to the amount of over a million and a quarter dollars. He has obtained this money in such a way as to make him one of the worst class of criminals, for he operated among his friends, who had trusted him implicitly.

Instead of going to the state penitentiary, as expected he is today laboring over the accounts of his office in an endeavor to show exactly who was swindled and who was not. He claims that no one but himself was involved in the case, but circumstantial evidence points otherwise and the prosecution has undertaken a careful examination to see if others are not equally involved with Mr. Van Vliessen.

Mr. Van Vliessen's property has already been attached and an endeavor will be made to secure all available assets in order to pay off, as far as possible, the embezzlement. This will leave the wife and son in practically penniless condition, with the head of the household serving time in the penitentiary. No sympathy, whatever is extended to the forger, but all hearts go out to the pathetic case of the innocent suffering for the guilty.

WHEN PA GIVES INFORMATION.
Just the Chance for Display of His Sense of Humor.

"Pa, what is a hypochondriac?"
"A hypochondriac, Wilfred?"
But just a moment. "Pa" in this anecdote is not a good and kind father, yearning to impart useful information to his son, but one of those smart answer-givers whose main object in life is to get into the back pages of the magazines. Such fathers look upon their little sons, grasping for knowledge, as providers of openings for senseless domestic epigrams. Hence —but we'll go back.

"Pa" takes off his glasses and looks brightly at his son.
"What did you say, my boy?"
"Pa, what is a hypochondriac?"
That gives "Pa" his chance.
"A hypochondriac, Wilfred"—names like Wilfred add humor to this sort of thing. John, for instance, would fall flat and James would be indefinitely worse; but to resume—"A hypochondriac, Wilfred, is a man who has such a dread of catching cold that, whenever he takes a bath, he steps up all the holes in the sponge for fear of draughts."

And Wilfred not quite seven years old! Isn't it a shame?

OBSERVANT PEOPLE ARE JAPS.
Trouble Is They Are Liable to Carry It to Extremes.

The Japanese are a most imitative and observant people and copy everything they see with minute fidelity. A Newport man recently engaged a Japanese valet, who was very attentive and satisfactory.

His duties rarely took him into the kitchen, but when he had a chance of watching the cook he did so with extraordinary interest.

The cook caught a severe chill and left somewhat suddenly. The lady of the house was in despair, as she could not replace her.

At last the valet unsolicitedly offered that he thought he could cook a little and the mistress gladly agreed to give him a trial.

The first thing he started on was the potatoes. He took off his shoes and socks and put his feet in a bath of hot mustard and water.

The lady wanted to know what on earth he was doing. He replied that he saw the cook do that when she was peeling the potatoes, and nothing would persuade him that this was not a necessary part of the process.

From Sorrow.
Many an irritating fault, many an unlovely oddity, has come of a hard sorrow, which has crushed and maimed the nature just when it was expanding into pleasurable beauty; and the trivial, erring life which we visit with our harsh blame, may be but as the untidy motion of a man whose best limb is withered.—George Eliot.

Want Ads. bring results.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

possible, the embezzlement. This will leave the wife and son in practically penniless condition, with the head of the household serving time in the penitentiary. No sympathy, whatever is extended to the forger, but all hearts go out to the pathetic case of the innocent suffering for the guilty.

WHEN PA GIVES INFORMATION.
Just the Chance for Display of His Sense of Humor.

"Pa, what is a hypochondriac?"
"A hypochondriac, Wilfred?"
But just a moment. "Pa" in this anecdote is not a good and kind father, yearning to impart useful information to his son, but one of those smart answer-givers whose main object in life is to get into the back pages of the magazines. Such fathers look upon their little sons, grasping for knowledge, as providers of openings for senseless domestic epigrams. Hence —but we'll go back.

"Pa" takes off his glasses and looks brightly at his son.
"What did you say, my boy?"
"Pa, what is a hypochondriac?"
That gives "Pa" his chance.
"A hypochondriac, Wilfred"—names like Wilfred add humor to this sort of thing. John, for instance, would fall flat and James would be indefinitely worse; but to resume—"A hypochondriac, Wilfred, is a man who has such a dread of catching cold that, whenever he takes a bath, he steps up all the holes in the sponge for fear of draughts."

And Wilfred not quite seven years old! Isn't it a shame?

OBSERVANT PEOPLE ARE JAPS.
Trouble Is They Are Liable to Carry It to Extremes.

The Japanese are a most imitative and observant people and copy everything they see with minute fidelity. A Newport man recently engaged a Japanese valet, who was very attentive and satisfactory.

His duties rarely took him into the kitchen, but when he had a chance of watching the cook he did so with extraordinary interest.

The cook caught a severe chill and left somewhat suddenly. The lady of the house was in despair, as she could not replace her.

At last the valet unsolicitedly offered that he thought he could cook a little and the mistress gladly agreed to give him a trial.

The first thing he started on was the potatoes. He took off his shoes and socks and put his feet in a bath of hot mustard and water.

The lady wanted to know what on earth he was doing. He replied that he saw the cook do that when she was peeling the potatoes, and nothing would persuade him that this was not a necessary part of the process.

From Sorrow.
Many an irritating fault, many an unlovely oddity, has come of a hard sorrow, which has crushed and maimed the nature just when it was expanding into pleasurable beauty; and the trivial, erring life which we visit with our harsh blame, may be but as the untidy motion of a man whose best limb is withered.—George Eliot.

Want Ads. bring results.

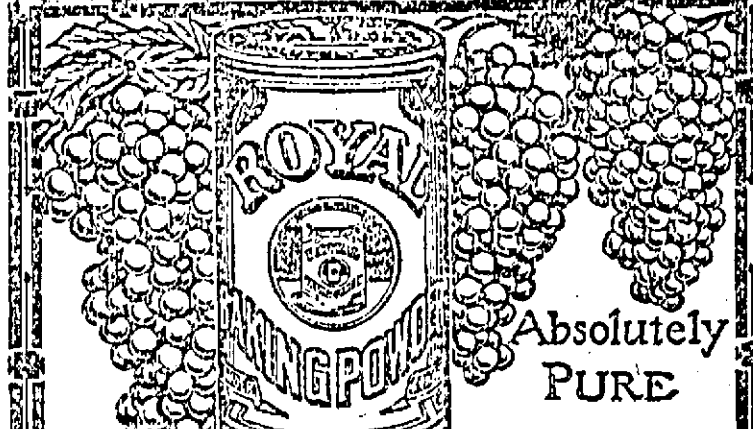

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

Wanted—A man with a valid skin, secured using Bath Skin Cream and Bath Skin Complexion Powder. July 25, 1908.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely PURE

Why these grapes? Because from the healthful grape comes the chief ingredient of Royal Baking Powder, Royal Grape Cream of Tartar.

Alum-phosphate powders are made with harsh mineral acids and must be avoided.

LATEST PICTURE OF THE GERMAN EMPRESS WITH HER DAUGHTER AND SON, PRINCESS VICTORIA AND PRINCE JOACHIM.

Forest Mills UNDERWEAR

hand trimmed. The highest point of perfection. They are that is one great thing about this line—perfect fitting.

We call particular attention to one number

Ladies' Extra Heavy Fleece Union Suit 50c

Garments for women and Misses 50c to $3.00.

POND AND BAILEY

21-23 West Milwaukee Street.

CUT GLASS

Is always bright and cheerful, and pleasing to the eye. You will find it one of the most pleasing CHRISTMAS GIFTS you can give.

The patterns are more pleasing and the prices lower this year than ever before. Before buying see what there is at

PYPER'S

PICTURE FRAMING

Done in all styles. We carry the largest and finest line of Mouldings in the city

We do our own work, therefore can give you the lowest prices.

THE ART STORE.

DIEHLS

Corner W. Milwaukee & River.

Helms' Seed Store

Timothy Hay, Clover Hay, Rye Straw.

Barley, Ground Barley, Bran, Oil Meal.

Our Corn and Oat Feed is always fresh and sweet.

For Poultry: Corn, Wheat, Barley, Corn Meal, Beef Scraps, etc.

Our Poultry Mash is a winner this cold weather. Made of Corn Meal, Bran, Midds, Shorts, Alfalfa Meal, Beef Scraps. 2c a lb.

Our feed business for the month of November was double that of the previous month. Why? Because we sell the right feed at the right price.

HELMS SEED STORE

29 S. Main St.

BOTH PHONES.

Belmont Chocolates

Are new in Janesville. They have many ardent admirers. Made fresh every few days. They are delicious, 50c lb.

Opera Creams are the highest art of chocolates. The softest of cream coated with rich, smooth chocolate, 50c lb.

Cut Flowers at all times. We enter specially for parties and all occasions.

J. E. HOUSE

Confectioner

Milwaukee St. Bridge.

New Phone 640 Red.

CHRISTMAS GOODS

Are arriving daily. These goods are the newest and most up-to-date, in style and finish and are bound to please the most fastidious. You should see these goods before buying.

Another reason why you should see these goods: Because it is an up-to-date line of honest goods which we are trying to sell to honest people by honest methods and our increasing trade shows that we are on the right track. But we still want to do business with every honest man so we are reaching for your trade.

KOEBELIN'S

Jewelry and Music House

THE PLACE TO BUY. Hayes Block.

THE REAL SUFFERERS IN THE VAN VLISSINGEN FORGERY CASE. MRS. PETER VAN VLISSINGEN AND HER LITTLE SON.

9-10 Of The Pain In Dentistry Is Unnecessary

There is always the great fear of pain that keeps people from having their teeth attended to—and still the longer they put it off, the more pain and expense they will be caused.

Around the tooth on all sides, there are nerves, and these I treat with a harmless application which deadens the pain for a period of 15 minutes.

I have used this method for about 15 years, and know that 9-10 of the pain is not felt.

If you have been "going" to have your teeth fixed, call the very next time you go by, and let me tell you more about my methods.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS

GRADUATE DENTIST
Office over Hall & Boyles' jewelry store
Janesville, Wis.

We are sure both men and women must be pleased to hear that we can take old garments and almost transform them into new ones. Our system of cleaning and pressing preserves the very best and most satisfactory results, and we enable our patrons to save a good many dollars yearly in their clothing bills.

C. F. BROCKHAUS
OPPOSITE MYERS HOUSE.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF —THE— FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Janesville, Wis.
At the close of business November 27, 1908.

RESOURCES.
Loans.....	$646,588.65
Overdrafts.....	1,402.00
United States Bonds.....	50,000.00
Other Bonds.....	210,293.00
Real Estate.....	10,000.00
Banking House.....	$381,400.32
Cash.....	$4,262.82
Due from U. S. Treasurer.....	2,500.00
Total.....	$1,298,447.79
LIABILITIES.
Capital.....	$125,000.00
Surplus.....	85,000.00
Undivided Profits.....	35,517.98
Circulation Outstanding.....	48,000.00
Deposits.....	1,002,330.03
Total.....	$1,298,447.99
Nov. 27, 1905, Deposits.....	$ 589,000
Nov. 27, 1906, Deposits.....	743,000
Nov. 27, 1907, Deposits.....	839,000
Nov. 27, 1908, Deposits.....	1,002,330

RINK
OPEN EVERY EVENING EXCEPT TUESDAY

HOT DRINKS
These cold days a hot drink hits the right spot and will keep you toned up. Our entire menu 10c. Crisp wafers served.

PAPPAS' Candy Palace
THE HOUSE OF QUALITY.
19 E. Milw. St. Both phones.

A cordial welcome is extended to you to try our Pasteurized MILK
JANESVILLE
PURE MILK CO.
GRIDLEY & CRAFT, Props.
22 No. Duane Street.

WILL EXHIBIT AT BIG AUTO SHOW

OWEN THOMAS MOTOR CAR COMPANY TO PRESENT THEIR CARE TO THE PUBLIC INSPECTION.

2 CARS NEARLY COMPLETED

Promise to Be Novelty in Automobile Manufacture—If Successful Will Be Manufactured Here.

Janesville visitors to the big auto show in Chicago next February can find an exhibit of a genuine Janesville automobile and point with pride to the product of the proposed plant addition to Janesville's manufacturing industries—an automobile factory.

For nearly two years Mr. Thomas of the Owen Thomas Motor Car company has been experimenting with the mechanism of his new automobile and now has two sample cars nearing completion at his shops in the old round house of the Northwestern railroad.

Space has been reserved for the exhibit of the local concern at the auto show in Chicago next February and the two cars, a five passenger forty-five horsepower roadster and a seven passenger touring car of the same power will be seen there on exhibition.

The roadster will be used for exhibition purposes only while the touring car will be employed in demonstrating purposes. Then will follow grueling tests for the efficiency of the cars and their engines after which the question of building a factory for their manufacture for the trade will be taken up.

The two sample cars are at present in process of construction and will be ready by the time of the auto show. As the loan of the present factory space about this time here only modest quarters will be secured shortly so that the work of building other cars can be commenced at once.

Only the assembling and making of the casting patterns are being done at the shops in the old railroad yards. The castings are being made at several of the foundries in the city and the fittings at Randall and Altman's shop across from their offices. The body of the cars have already been built and the gearings for the transmission are being assembled now.

The proposed cars which they will make will be the lightest on the market, forty-five horsepower machine only weighing twenty-four hundred pounds.

Of the mechanical parts, the transmission case will be all in one piece, having been machined from rough castings in three hours. This case bolts direct onto the engine base enclosing all machinery, including the fly-wheel of the engine. The transmission gearings are only about one fourth as many as in other cars.

The cars are assembled by hand and made so that all repairs can be made by hand. The engine will have a four and a half inch bore and a four inch stroke, and will deliver forty-five horsepower. A six-cylinder engine is used.

The car has a universal joint which gives equal travel at all angles and which is used in only one other machine, the Renault. A great deal of friction in the gears is eliminated by the use of Hobsbrough gearings some of which had to be especially made for these cars. The car has a 122-inch wheel base.

The tires which are furnished with the machine are 36x4 inches, with National demountable rims, enabling an already blown-up tire to be quickly placed on in place of an injured tire in less than a minute.

If the car stands the tests to which it will be put the company will build a factory here and build them for the trade. A possible site has already been picked out and the factory will probably be erected during the coming summer.

However, before this is decided upon the car will be put through about six weeks of testing all of the parts and its running ability, and will be put to trial on the roads. The machines will suit for $2,500.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
—THE—
FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Janesville, Wis.
At the close of business November 27, 1908.

RESOURCES.
Loans.....	$646,588.65
Overdrafts.....	1,402.00
United States Bonds.....	50,000.00
Other Bonds.....	210,293.00
Real Estate.....	10,000.00
Banking House.....	$381,400.32
Cash.....	$4,262.82
Due from U. S. Treasurer.....	2,500.00
Total.....	$1,298,447.79
LIABILITIES.
Capital.....	$125,000.00
Surplus.....	85,000.00
Undivided Profits.....	35,517.98
Circulation Outstanding.....	48,000.00
Deposits.....	1,002,330.03
Total.....	$1,298,447.99
Nov. 27, 1905, Deposits.....	$ 589,000
Nov. 27, 1906, Deposits.....	743,000
Nov. 27, 1907, Deposits.....	839,000
Nov. 27, 1908, Deposits.....	1,002,330

JANESVILLE FIRM'S HONORS AT EXHIBIT

McLay Bros. Carry Off Prizes in the Draft-Horse Class at Chicago Stock Show.

Among the prize-winners in the draft-horse class at the Chicago Stock Show yesterday was the exhibit of McLay Bros., who carried off third honors in this class, competing with the celebrated prize-winners of the English and European shows.

ARM SCALDED QUITE BADLY
AT C. & N. W. ROUNDHOUSE

Chas. Graff, Boiler-maker, Received Painful Burns Last Night While Working in the Shops.

While working in the roundhouse at the new yards last night about midnight, Chas. Graff, a boiler-maker, was badly scalded on his right arm and his face. He was working on an engine and had been letting the water out of the boiler. The elbow of the blow-off cock, on which he had been working, was turned away from him, but the force of the steam turned it and the hot steam poured out upon him, burning his arm quite badly.

MATRIMONIAL.
Kosser-Turk

Marie A. Kosser and Henry H. Turk were married today by the Rev. J. W. Laughlin. Mr. and Mrs. Turk, who had from Clarion, Pa., and Easton, Ill., respectively, came up to Janesville today, obtained a marriage license and a special permit and were married at once.

CRESENT DANCING CLUB.
The fifth of a series of dances given by the Crescent Dancing Club will be held in East Side Odd Fellows' hall Wednesday evening, Dec. 2. Knott & Hatch's orchestra.

NOTICE.
A country clergyman will board a safe driving horse for its use. Light work, good care. Value guaranteed. Address, S. A. Newman, Milton, Wis.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Loretta Sennett has resumed her studies in Our Lady of Mercy academy in Milwaukee.

Norman Nelson left today on a business trip to Davenport.

L. O. Griffiths of Monroe, transacted business here yesterday.

Miss Ora Smith spent Sunday with Miss Julia Lam at Beloit.

Mrs. C. D. McCammon of Stockton, Ill., is visiting in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Fish will depart tomorrow for a visit in Chicago. Edward Eddington expected to leave today for a month's visit in Oklahoma and Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith have returned from their wedding trip and taken possession of their home on East street.

Edward Humes of San Francisco, Cal., a former resident of this city, is visiting relatives and old acquaintances here after an absence of 32 years.

Street Commissioner James Sennett has sold his residence on Milwaukee avenue to William Howard of La Prairie.

Attorney John Cunningham has returned from an eight days' business trip to St. Paul.

Attorney Louis Avery appeared before the Supreme Court at Madison today.

Mrs. George Crane has returned from a visit with a sister at Huron, S. D.

James Doe is home from a visit in Chicago.

W. R. Williams has just returned from a hunting trip in Northern Wisconsin, near Ashland.

Miss Irma Ziegler was in Chicago today.

W. C. Hart was in Milton Junction today.

Bert Burton of Milton Junction was in the city today.

The Knott & Hatch orchestra went to Kilmora today to keep an engagement there.

F. J. Kane spent the day at his farm in Hanover.

The Misses Margaret Quinn and Josephine O'Hara entertained a number of young ladies at a card party last evening. Miss Norma McCoy was awarded first prize and Mrs. Ed. Smith the second.

Wm. and Mrs. M. B. Potter of Watons, Wis., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Lewis. Mrs. Potter is the sister of Mrs. Lewis.

Orden H. Pothers expects to leave for Washington, D. C., on Monday next. He will remain in the capital about two weeks.

R. Maltress of Edgerton was in Janesville today.

Dr. G. C. Whittle was in Belknap yesterday, where he was called to testify at the examination of an insane woman.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lewis and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Potter of Watons, spent the day in Rockford.

Daniel Burton of Palmyra is in the city on business.

W. J. Lawrence, a former resident of Janesville, is here from Chicago for a few days' visit.

R. N. Benson of Clinton transacted business here today.

J. H. Wise is here from Sharon.

F. G. Short was here from Ft. Atkinson last evening.

A. W. Thomas of Mineral Point was a visitor here last night.

N. Schneider was here from Johnson Creek last evening.

Postmaster George Sengmiller of Beloit was in Janesville today.

The Misses Catherine and Winifred Field entertained a small company at bridge this afternoon for their sister, Mrs. Ross King of Chicago, who is visiting here.

Burr Sprague of Broadhead was in the city on business today.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Degree Work in K. of P.: The armorial rank of Esquire was conferred on F. A. Taylor at a large gathering of the members of Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, at Castle hall last evening. M. F. Green and Dr. F. B. Farnsworth were received into active membership.

In for a Hard Drive: Peter Goodman left Chicago with a new truck and three horses, day before yesterday, expecting to drive overland to Janesville. With the soft weather ending in a hard freeze-up, it is probable that the journey thus far has been anything but an enjoyable one.

Only Six Lodgers: Despite the arrival of the cold wave last evening, only six applied for lodging at the city lock-up. This was probably due to the fact that Old Bureau got his work late in the evening when most of the wandering hordes had already boarded their sled-dog Pullmans and were en route for new and distant scenes.

Arrival of Son: Professor Woodstock of Graceland College, La Moine, Iowa, has announced the arrival of a son in his household, born November 29th. Professor Woodstock is a graduate of the Janesville High School with the class of 1899.

Sentence Suspended: Fred De Groat of Broadhead pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in municipal court this afternoon. A fine of $10 and costs with the alternative of 60 days in all was imposed, but sentence was suspended long enough to enable the offender to get out of the city and stay out.

Gold Medal Flour is made on honor.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF —THE— ROCK COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

at Janesville, in the State of Wisconsin, at the close of business, Nov. 27, 1908.

RESOURCES.
Loans and Discounts.....	$466,539.33
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	276.38
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation.....	75,000.00
Other Bonds to secure U. S. Deposits.....	55,800.00
Bonds, securities, etc.....	63,879.39
Due from State Banks and Bankers.....	20,032.47
Due from approved reserve agents and other cash items.....	69,300.67
Notes of other National Banks.....	2,141.29
Fractional paper currency, notes, and cents.....	159.59
Legal tender notes.....	35,588.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation).....	44,066.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5% redemption fund.....	3,750.00
Total.....	$834,034.12
LIABILITIES.
Capital stock paid in.....	$100,000.00
Surplus fund.....	50,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	30,450.99
National Bank notes outstanding.....	500.00
Individual deposits subject to check.....	369,968.55
Demand certificates of deposit.....	227,114.58
United States deposits.....	50,000.00
Total.....	$834,034.12

STATE OF WISCONSIN— County of Rock:

I, P. H. JACKMAN, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

P. H. JACKMAN, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of December, 1908.

STANLEY D. TALLMAN, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
C. H. JACKMAN,
A. P. BURNHAM,
C. W. JACKMAN,
Directors.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Solvey—burn it as you do hard coal. $15 suits and overcoats, the greatest values of the season. Look in our windows. Ziegler Clothing Co. Christmas sale and supper at the Congregational church Wednesday, December 9th.

Bring $15 and get a $25 suit or overcoat. Ziegler Clothing Co. Eastern Star rummage sale Wednesday and throughout the week at 101 N. Main St. Parties having articles to donate please call up new phone 1023.

Ziegler's large space page 8 tells of a splendid $15 clothing opportunity. Read T. P. Burns' ad, on page 8 and read about the bargains in dress goods and silks.

Odd and even lots of fall purchases, $18, $20 and $25 suits and overcoats at $15. Ziegler Clothing Co.

$15 suit and overcoat offer at Ziegler's.

L. R. VanGilder of Iowa bought the C. R. Porter farm of 100 acres for $8500, through the agency of Kommerer & Dooley.

Society Brand suits for young men $15 at Ziegler Clothing Co.

One of the old time masquerades at Assembly hall December 3rd, $10.00 in prizes.

Christmas sale at the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 2. Chicken-pie supper, 5:30.

Beautiful overcoats and suits of the conservative styles $15. Ziegler Clothing Co.

The ladies of Trinity church will hold a sale of plain and fancy aprons and other articles Wednesday evening at East Side Odd Fellows' hall.

Don't miss our big 35% per cent discount sale on ladies' and misses' suits. T. P. Burns.

$15 overcoats and $15 suits, special, at Ziegler's.

Christmas sale at the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 2. Chicken-pie supper, 5:30.

The men of Trinity church will give a chicken pie supper Wednesday, Dec. 2nd, at East Side Odd Fellows' hall. Supper from 5 to 7.

Ziegler's big windows are full of suits and overcoats at $15.

Don't forget the Christmas sale at the Congregational church Wednesday, December 9th.

Hard Water? Soft Water? It makes no difference when you use Jap Rose in the bath or toilet. Kirk makes it. All dealers sell it.

Mrs. Estelle Wright Eddy Word has been received from Los Angeles, California, announcing the death of Mrs. Estelle Wright Eddy, aged sixty, a daughter of the late John S. Wright, and for many years a resident of Emerald Grove, on November 25. Mrs. Eddy moved to California from Chicago four years ago, her husband dying there a year ago. She leaves to mourn her loss a sister, Mrs. Anna Wright, and two children, Estelle and Clarence, all of Los Angeles. The interment was in Los Angeles.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Degree Work in K. of P.: The armorial rank of Esquire was conferred on F. A. Taylor at a large gathering of the members of Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, at Castle hall last evening. M. F. Green and Dr. F. B. Farnsworth were received into active membership.

In for a Hard Drive: Peter Goodman left Chicago with a new truck and three horses, day before yesterday, expecting to drive overland to Janesville. With the soft weather ending in a hard freeze-up, it is probable that the journey thus far has been anything but an enjoyable one.

Only Six Lodgers: Despite the arrival of the cold wave last evening, only six applied for lodging at the city lock-up. This was probably due to the fact that Old Bureau got his work late in the evening when most of the wandering hordes had already boarded their sled-dog Pullmans and were en route for new and distant scenes.

Arrival of Son: Professor Woodstock of Graceland College, La Moine, Iowa, has announced the arrival of a son in his household, born November 29th. Professor Woodstock is a graduate of the Janesville High School with the class of 1899.

Sentence Suspended: Fred De Groat of Broadhead pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in municipal court this afternoon. A fine of $10 and costs with the alternative of 60 days in all was imposed, but sentence was suspended long enough to enable the offender to get out of the city and stay out.

Gold Medal Flour is made on honor.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF —THE— ROCK COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

at Janesville, in the State of Wisconsin, at the close of business, Nov. 27, 1908.

RESOURCES.
Loans and Discounts.....	$466,539.33
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	276.38
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation.....	75,000.00
Other Bonds to secure U. S. Deposits.....	55,800.00
Bonds, securities, etc.....	63,879.39
Due from State Banks and Bankers.....	20,032.47
Due from approved reserve agents and other cash items.....	69,300.67
Notes of other National Banks.....	2,141.29
Fractional paper currency, notes, and cents.....	159.59
Legal tender notes.....	35,588.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation).....	44,066.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5% redemption fund.....	3,750.00
Total.....	$834,034.12
LIABILITIES.
Capital stock paid in.....	$100,000.00
Surplus fund.....	50,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	30,450.99
National Bank notes outstanding.....	500.00
Individual deposits subject to check.....	369,968.55
Demand certificates of deposit.....	227,114.58
United States deposits.....	50,000.00
Total.....	$834,034.12

STATE OF WISCONSIN— County of Rock:

I, P. H. JACKMAN, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

P. H. JACKMAN, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of December, 1908.

STANLEY D. TALLMAN, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
C. H. JACKMAN,
A. P. BURNHAM,
C. W. JACKMAN,
Directors.

Plantation Coffee 25c lb.

If you want the best for 25c get this.

The mere fragrance from grinding will make you crave a cup.

If you want to pay more, order Pure Java & Mocha at 34c, 3 lbs. $1.00.

Many try to get the real Java & Mocha flavor without using Java & Mocha, but it can't be done.

Remember that it costs us practically nothing extra to send a pound of your order.

We can afford to give extra values in tea and coffee—and we do.

If you want straight Java or straight Mocha or anything else in the coffee line just drop in and tell us about it, we find it all especially interesting and will certainly take great pleasure in pleasing you.

Plantation Coffee 25c lb.

DEDRICK BROS.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

Get Your Groceries
AT THE East Side Sanitary Grocery
and get the best. Everything new and clean.

All kinds of Fruits and Vegetables.

The best Teas, Coffees and Home Baking in the city.

Fresh Bulk Oysters, no ice in them, 45c qt.

Home Made Potato Chips 40c lb.

Salt Fish of all kinds.

U all No After Dinner Mint, 10c, 25c.

G. N. VANKIRK

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

SAN MARTO COFFEE
SATURDAY, DEC. 5TH.
Sure and come.

BAUMANN BROS.
18 North Main St.
New, 200—PHONES—2601
Old, 2601

Every lady in Rock County is invited to try a cup of

RIPPLES OF MIRTH

It Can Be Explained

Ever since the first street car in America took to the rails the man with a black eye who entered it as a passenger has felt that some sort of explanation was due his fellow-passengers. Heretofore it has been considered utterly impossible to make that explanation, but now a genius who deserves a gold medal has made it as easy as falling off a fence. The man with an eye on him has only to step into a stationer's and buy a card on which is printed one of the following explanations: "I had a collision with a brick house." "The family Bible fell off the shelf and hit me in the eye." "The cat did it while chasing a mouse." "I didn't see the telegraph pole till I bumped it." "The lady had the collar in the night, and I got up and hit my eye against the ceiling." "I was rescuing orphans from a burning asylum when one of them accidentally kicked me in the eye." "The doctor says it was caused by a falling meteor." "We thought she heard burglars in the house and punched me in the eye with her elbow." "I started to hug my mother-in-law, who had just arrived, and she hit me with her chin." "Father-in-law tossed me a bag of gold, and I got it in the eye instead of the neck." "I went to a meeting of my lodge and got kicked by the goat." "Was tickling the baby when he suddenly threw up his feet." "Was going home with a mulester and talking about church matters when the mulester threw up. Minister says it was a miraculous thing that I didn't get both eyes blacked. The only safe way is to walk in the middle of the road." J. H. KILM.

Life Is Uncertain.

"No, I'm not going to commit suicide because I have a broken nose," said the man with the strips of court plaster across his nasal organ; "but I'll tell you what I am going to do after this. I'm not going to believe there's anything in luck any more and that things in this life are as uncertain as going out to milk a cow in the dark. You may find the cow or you may find yourself alongside of a mule." "Something must have happened?" was queried. "Yes, something has, and maybe I'll feel better to get it off my mind. Six months ago a friend of mine was in Boston. He was walking along the street behind a lady when he noticed that one of her shoes was untied. He overtook her and, taking his hat, informed her of the fact. She not only thanked him in the sweetest manner, but took his address, and what do you suppose followed?" "You sent him a lovely letter?" "No, she didn't. She sent him a check for $20,000, and he's just gone into the shoe business." "Well?" "Well, I was in New York last week, and I found myself following a lady on the street. I am just as good looking and courteous and charming as my friend. A girl of wind took the lady's hat off and all her false hair with it. I overtook her, rubbed my hat and expressed my sympathy for the lady who was baldheaded. She took her property from my hands and then laughed off with the mulester she carried and broke my nose. No notice—no sympathy—no check for $20,000 or any other amount. I was entitled to it just as much as my friend, and I'm pretty sure that he was, and yet he's walking in the shoe trade, while I am hanging around the country with a broken nose, and the doctors say I will never be baldheaded again." J. H. KILM.

Solving a Puzzle.

"Previous to the present hard times the tramp found no hard work to do," said the insurance man of head-on look, "but after so many men had been thrown out of employment I had a chance for every man that had a hard luck story. Three or four days ago I found a man on the street corner who looked hungry and hard up, and without waiting to be asked for charity I walked up to him and handed out two nickels and said: 'I know how it is with you, my man. Take this and get something to eat.' 'He looked from me to the coins and back and didn't take them. As a matter of fact, he turned his back on me and walked away. I felt foolish, of course, thinking I had made a mistake in my man, and thereby hurt his feelings. Trifling as the thing was, it bothered me for a couple of days, and yesterday, when I happened to run across the same person again I thought to square myself by saying: 'You must excuse me for offering you charity the other day. I thought you looked hungry.' 'And so I was,' he replied. 'And I didn't know but you were out of work.' 'And so I was and am. I have had nothing to do for three months.' 'But you wouldn't take the money.' 'No.' 'And will you tell me why?' 'Yes, sir. You offered me ten cents, and I never take less than a quarter from anybody.' 'I didn't offer him a quarter,' said the insurance man. 'His was too high-priced for me, and I turned away to look for a cheaper man.' J. H. KILM.

FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

The song birds, they have left the land; I don't know where they're at, but the angels he is serenading, and the turkeys are getting fat.

and Mrs. B. W. Farnsworth. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hackett entertained Asa Doud and daughter Bessie of Whitewater, Thursday. Friday, Mrs. Hackett and Miss Edna Sherman took the train for Ansonia, Ia., for a ten days' visit with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Penock and daughter of Whitewater spent Thanksgiving with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. Van Sturtevant attended a wedding anniversary in Indiana recently. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hanson of Janesville were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Magoon. Floyd Sturtevant has returned from an extended visit at the home of his brother, Dorey, at Delavan. Frances Lorwill of Whitewater recently spent a few days at the home of her brother, Fern Lorwill. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Gonda entertained a house full of neighbors and friends last Friday night. Bear in mind that December 4th is the date for the church fair at this place. Richard Penock left turkey with his son Robert and family Thursday. Mrs. H. L. Jaynes of Whitewater visited her daughter, Mrs. Paul Schultz Saturday. Charles Hombert and Mrs. A. O. Hull of Delavan were guests of D. L. Hull and wife Thursday.

EDGERTON

Edgerton, Dec. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McIntosh have returned to their home in La Crosse after several days' visit with relatives here. Miss Marie Harlin, who has been visiting her uncle, Rev. James Harlin, returned to her home in Fond du Lac, Saturday. Benjamin Pench was taken to Chicago Saturday for an operation for gall stones. Dr. Cleary accompanied him. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hutson of Madison were down to attend the funeral of their uncle, Hulet Hutson, which was held at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon. The funeral of Miss Vera Sweeney was held from the Catholic church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and was very largely attended, many relatives from Milwaukee, Evansville and Janesville being present. Mrs. A. W. Stephens is the guest for the week of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ash.

BROADHEAD.

Broadhead, Dec. 1.—Mr. H. G. Schwartz went to Spring Green Monday for a short home visit. E. M. Densmore, who has been attending court in Monroe, is home for a couple of days. Dalton Howard returned Monday to Milwaukee where he is attending the Spencerian business college. Rev. Harvey Dea Brown of Milwaukee will give three lectures in Broadhead on the 9th, 10th and 11th inst. on the subject of socialism. He will also speak in the town hall in Spring Grove township. Otto Rygaard returned last evening from the northern part of the state where he has been on a hunting trip. J. M. Shorb of Durand, Ill., is here on a business trip. Scott Hamilton returned last evening from a visit with his brother, Dr. G. W. Hamilton and family. Mrs. Maudie Flock and daughter, Miss Mable Flock, spent Monday with Janesville friends. C. M. Flock of Janesville was a Broadhead visitor on Monday. E. R. Reed of Albany spent Monday in the city on business.

VISITOR WAS SHERLOCK HOLMES

Marvelous Powers of Deduction That Astonished Storekeeper.

Though it had happened a long time before, the honest storekeeper still spoke of the occurrence with awe. "It was this way," he said. "I was standing behind the counter in my store, thinking of nothing in particular, when a hawk-eyed gentleman walked in, followed by a quiet, unassuming chap. 'The hawk-eyed gentleman, after looking all about, turned to me. 'Do you—or perhaps—sell coffee?' he asked. 'Yes, sir.' 'And sugar?' 'Yes, sir.' 'Nice raisins, too, I take it.' 'Yes, sir; we have a very superior line of raisins.' 'He paused a while. Then, turning to me again: 'Cheese?' 'Yes, sir—good cheese.' 'At that he beckoned to the quiet, unassuming chap and whispered in his ear: 'What do you make of it?' 'Not a thing.' 'Watson—it's a grocery store!' 'No!' 'I'm sure of it, Watson.' 'Marvelous!' 'And signing to his companion to follow, the hawk-eyed gentleman stole away, with catlike tread, looking warily about him on all sides. 'Not until after he had gone did I realize who my distinguished visitor was.'"

BUILDING UP WORLD'S CITIES.

Growth of Centers of Population in Past Century.

The century just passed has witnessed an enormous multiplication of large cities and their rapid growth. In 1801 there were in all Europe but 22 cities of more than 100,000 inhabitants, of which only London and Paris had more than 500,000 and none reached 1,000,000. At present there are 100 cities of more than 100,000 inhabitants, 55 above 500,000 and seven of more than 1,000,000. In the entire world there are 13 cities of 1,000,000 or more inhabitants, including the European seven. M. De Foville, a French student of comparative statistics, attributes this unprecedented increase to the fact that the combined efforts of science, industry and invention have actually changed the face of the world. Chemistry, steam and electricity, railways and steamers, gold and credit have all appeared during this period and have given birth to men and to affairs an impulse like the stroke of a magic wand.

The ELDREDGE

"The Machine of Merit"

THE ELDREDGE SEWING MACHINE

Has stood the supreme test—"The Test of Time"—thirty unbroken successful years on the market.

The Eldredge ten-year warranty is sewing machine life insurance furnished without cost. This beautiful sewing machine as shown

$25.00 CASH

Our Sheldon Sewing Machines for $18.50

SHELDON HARDWARE CO.
SOUTH MAIN STREET

ALSO BLACK EYE, ETC. "The most notable feature about football as it is played here!" The Netter-Broken nose.

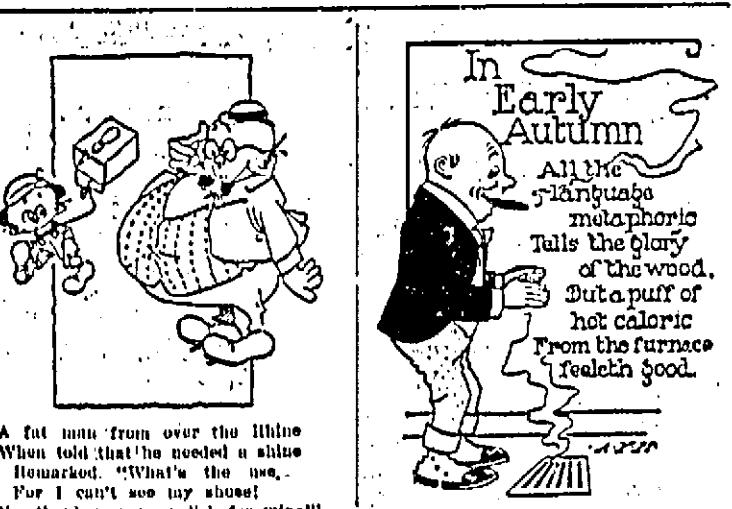

ALSO BLACK EYE, ETC. "The most notable feature about football as it is played here!" The Netter-Broken nose.

IN NOAH'S ARK.

The Goat—Now, there are just two animals of each kind, and we'll select eleven kinds and pair off for two football teams. That makes twenty-two—we need. The Pig—Well, I'm sure. The Other Goat—Should say not. We need a ball, you know, and we'll have to kill you for the platoon.

A fat man from over the Rhine When told that he needed a shirt remarked: "What's the use. For I can't see my shirt!" No, thank you, no polish for mine!"

EXASPERATINGLY SLOW.

And Jane—I think the young man who tried to steal a kiss should be punished Dorothy—No do I, surely, dear. And Jane—I am glad to hear you say that, child. Dorothy—Yes; he—be should be punished severely for only trying.

ALBANY.

Albany, Nov. 30.—Francis Howard was a visitor in Broadhead Saturday. Miss Ben Tilly spent several days with Evansville friends last week. Miss Francis Moore was here from Broadhead over Sunday, the guest of Miss Penola Palmer.

Mrs. H. Tippet is visiting relatives in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Murray of Footville were here to spend Thanksgiving with E. F. Murray and family.

Miss Elizabeth Croatto was a visitor in Broadhead Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Geo. Alcock and baby, of Plattville, are here to spend a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burt.

Mrs. Thos. Moore returned Monday noon from a week's visit with her son and family at Broadhead.

Clyde Horton is home from Mott, N. Dakota to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Holcomb and son of Broadhead were over Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hoyle.

Miss Margaret Hewitt of Beloit and Miss Mayme Hewitt and Mr. Bruce Kline of Janesville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hewitt Thanksgiving day.

A number of our young people attended the "Promenade" Thanksgiving dance at Broadhead Thursday evening.

Will Knight and the Misses Fay Flint and Shirley Roberts were Broadhead visitors between trains Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Ethel Schand was here from Broadhead to spend the day Friday with Mr. Schand who recently purchased the meat market.

Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Morgan handsomely entertained a number of their friends at a whist party at their spacious home on Friday evening of last week. Delightful refreshments were served. Mrs. J. P. Gravenor won first prize, and Mr. Gravenor was given the consolation prize.

Mr. G. R. Clarks left on Monday for Madison, having accepted a position as traveling salesman for a Madison saddlery company. His business here is under the management of Mr. Will Reese who has been under his employ for several years.

Miss Ella Burt and lady friend of Rockford visited the former's parents here Thursday and Friday.

UTTERS' CORNERS.

Utters' Corners, Nov. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. John Dood, and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Frommunder entertained a company of relatives at their home at the Spring Brook country Thanksgiving day. Mr. and Mrs. Rodger of Whitewater, John Knox and John Joyce of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Kate Knox of Whitewater were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dood, and Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frommunder. Mrs. Knox and Messrs. Joyce and Knox, and Mrs. Shepherd remained for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Roe and daughter spent Thanksgiving day with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers, in Janesville. Mrs. Roe and daughter remained until Saturday night. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roe attended church in Whitewater and their daughter spent the day with Mr.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

PROVING A BONANZA

The Big Cash Stock Reduction Sale Is Waking People Up

THE INTEREST INCREASES as THE SALE PROGRESSES

READ CAREFULLY—Do not get confused about what we allow a discount on. The whole stock is not included, but the following important stocks we do offer all during December at 20 per cent or 1-5 off the prices:

Dress Goods

Every piece goes at 20% off except about 150 pieces marked with green tags, which we offer at very much less than 20% off. Wonderful bargains all through the dress goods stock.

Blankets

No one can get away from the fact that now is a rare chance to buy blankets. The best stock we have ever shown. Never had better values at regular prices. Think of the saving, every pair from $12.00 down to 75c at 20% off the price. Make excellent Christmas gifts.

Curtains

We certainly shine in the curtain department. Practically no competition in curtains. No merchant for miles shows an up-to-date stock of lace or heavy curtains to compare with 'The Big Store's' Thousands of pairs. Included are all lace curtains, heavy curtains, muslin curtains, couch covers. 20% or 1-5 off from all prices.

Special Discount of 25% On Suits and Winter Cloaks both Cloth and Silk

Since the opening day of the sale business in the ready-to-wear department has been very large. People are not slow to snap up such bargains. Remember, the cleanest stock in town, all sizes, all colors, not largely made up of

Winter Underwear

Everything in underwear except Munnings included in the big cash sale. Our stock is so complete that it is not necessary to go into details. Hardly a good thing in winter underwear missing. A busy place now. 20% or 1-5 off of every piece.

Muslin Underwear

This department is in our South store and is a very pretentious one. We make a specialty of the underwear made by The Standard Mfg. Co., of Jackson, Mich. Also show La Greque and other popular makes. 20% or 1-5 off from every piece.

Fancy Silks

Many are taking advantage of this unusual money saving chance to buy a silk dress or waist. Fancy silks enough to satisfy most any one. Dots, checks, stripes, plaids, Persian, figures. 20% or 1-5 off from every piece.

Everything up stairs in Rugs, Carpets, Linoleum, Matings, Oil Cloths, all included at 10% or 1-10 off. $30,000 worth to select from. For Christmas Rugs make most substantial gifts. Why not buy a nice Oriental Rug? Never a better opportunity.

SALE CONTINUES ALL THROUGH DECEMBER.

MAIL ORDER MENACE

Residents of a Community Should Patronize Local Merchants.

GET MORE FOR THEIR MONEY

Some Suggestions by a Drummer on Combating the Evil That Were Followed by an Eastern Merchant With Good Results.

"I hardly knew the old place at first," remarked the drummer, who was in a small eastern town and had dropped in to see Brown, the merchant. "My, but you folks have slicked up the place since I was last here."

"Yes, we have organized an improvement society lately, and we've been busy, I can tell you," replied the merchant. "It takes the women folks to start the ball rolling in a thing of that kind, and it has opened our eyes to what can be done when all take an interest in the work. Business, however, isn't booming to any great extent."

"Mail order people cutting into your trade?" asked the drummer.

"That's about the size of it," sighed Brown.

"Well, it's a shame. You merchants pay taxes and contribute to the support of the community and are active in building up the town, but instead of appreciating this fact the residents send a great deal of their money to the big city stores."

"I wouldn't care so much if they saved anything to speak of by it or if they got any better goods, but they don't."

"Of course they don't," agreed the drummer. "I sell goods enough to know that. Somehow people in small towns think they can buy best through the mail order houses, and that is where they make a big mistake."

"You can't convince 'em of that," said the merchant.

"Well, it's a darnum used to say—'The people love to be humbugged.' It stands to reason that the mail order houses cannot spend the millions they do on advertising and give as much for the money as you fellows at home can, and people in many localities are waking up to that fact. Let me give you a few friendly suggestions while you are on this subject," continued the drummer.

"You ought to make a close study of just what people around here want from time to time. Never let them ask twice for an article if you can possibly help it. This doesn't mean that you must carry a million dollar stock. Simply carry what you are pretty sure will be wanted—what the mail order houses are putting out to a certain extent. And let the community know what you have in stock. When they read the out of town catalogues and see something they want they conclude you haven't got it, and away goes coin that should have been spent right here at home. You probably had the same article in stock, and for less money too. If you don't advertise, you might as well close up shop."

"Yes, I advertise occasionally," said Brown.

"Occasionally won't do. It is persistent advertising that wins out for the merchant. You want to spend every dollar you can afford to in advertising in your local paper and keep right at it. The mail order houses lay out thousands of dollars on pamphlets and circulars and catalogues, and you may be sure they are past masters in the art of making them attractive. That's how they get the trade they do. You can do the same thing in your local paper and in other ways on a smaller scale. It doesn't cost a fortune to get out a catalogue. It's of no use to go on advertising the fact that your name is Brown and that you are doing business on a certain street. That doesn't interest the general public. Give 'em prices. Tell 'em what you've got to sell. Make a certain day of the week always bargain day and give people some reason to come to your store. You may lose money on the venture at first, but you keep at it and you'll get big results before long. Let the residents here know that they are not only hurting you, but the town as well, by sending their money out of it."

"I'll consider your suggestions," said the merchant thoughtfully. "Guess I will advertise more and try the catalogues too."

"That's the game. Let people know how you feel about this matter. Put it to them fair and square and have the stock to back you up. The mail order houses are draining the country of money that should be spent at home, and it is about time the residents of small towns realized it. Thousands of dollars are sent away every week for goods that could have been purchased cheaper in the local stores. The first duty of every good citizen is home protection. Funny they cannot reason it out that the more they spend in their own town the more money they are going to keep in circulation there and the more prosperous it will make the community. Manufacturers looking for a site on which to erect a plant are not going to locate in a town where half the stores have 'To Let' signs on them. Why, if everybody traded out of town just to save a few pennies, there wouldn't be much left of it in a short time. Well, goodbye, Brown. I'll be around this way soon."

It was two months later when the drummer visited the store again. This time the place was so crowded with customers, however, that he had no chance to bring up the mail order matter, but the grateful look and hearty handshake the busy merchant gave him told the story. A. B. LEWIS.

My son, don't despise the job. Get a better if you can, but don't look down on this one. It pays you only ten dollars a week, you say, barely enough to keep you in cigarettes and coffee. Yet there is many a household in town that is run on less income, and many a man with a family dependent upon him would be glad to take your place. A man sneering at his job is a shining target for trouble. —Newark News.

Scientific Loading. "Chairs, checkers and what are marvelous inventions," says the Philosopher of Folly. "They enable a man to waste his time and still have the feeling that he is accomplishing something intellectual."

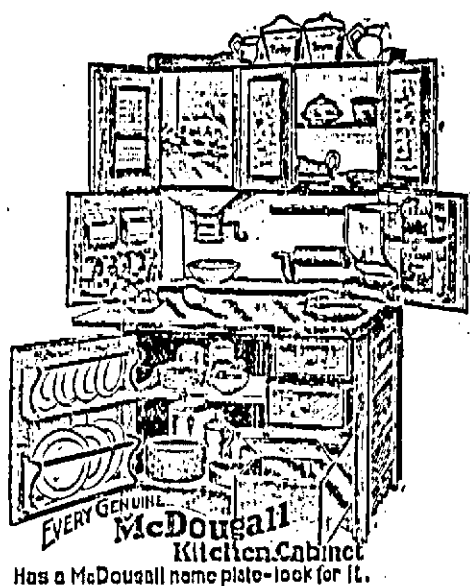

Three Kinds of Trouble. Some people have three kinds of trouble—all they ever had, all they have now, and all they expect to have. —Edward Everett Hale.

Uses Nail as a Pen. A London paper tells of a New York man who, after juggling the nail of his forefinger grow for more than a year, until now it is nearly an inch long, has had it cut and shaped like the nib of a goose-quill pen. Whenever he wishes to use pen and ink he dips his finger into the ink and scribbles along at a very rapid rate.

Influence of the Teacher. No educational system, however carefully drafted, can take the place of the myriad observation and the enlightened care of the individual teacher. There are not two but ten thousand ways to the light, but only the broad-minded teacher can select which of the 10,000 ways is the best for this or that particular boy. —Manchester Guardian.

Read the Want Ads.

THE CELEBRATED McDougal Kitchen Cabinets FOR HOLIDAY GIFTS

The best made, best finished and the lowest priced kitchen cabinet on the market today. Call and see them.

CHAS. S. PUTNAM
Selling Agents for McDougal Cabinets

Reason For Selling the Newman Bros. Piano

Because I have found after 30 years of experience in selling pianos, that it is the best piano on earth, that I can sell for a certain price that will give entire satisfaction to the careful buyer or critic.

If you are particular, and are looking for a good, reliable, artistic, honest, durable, high grade piano; you will find it in the NEWMAN BROS. PIANO.

Now, I am telling you just what I believe, and can prove it by thousands who have purchased the same. I firmly believe that the Newman Bros. piano of today is not excelled by any and very few its equal, regardless of name. Now it is up to you to come in and examine these famous pianos and prove to your own satisfaction the above statements. One thing more I wish to say is this: that when you purchase the Newman Bros. piano you are not paying for a name, as you would do in buying some pianos whose agents control large territories and control the high prices. It costs just so much to build a strictly high grade piano and with a reasonable profit should be sold at the right price, but when you pay two and three times that price for the name, there is something wrong. If you will use some common sense you will see that this is true.

Other reasons for selling the Newman Bros. pianos are that the men back of the name put their skill, their experience, their ideals, their very characters, into every piano manufactured, so that you are running no chances when you purchase, and you are not buying a pig in the bag. There ought to be a Newman Bros. piano in every home in this city and county where there is none. You make no mistake when you purchase the Newman Bros.

H. F. NOTT
(CARPENTER BLOCK.) JANESVILLE, WIS.

JOHN A. SHANK

9 N. Main St. - Next to Gas Office

Owing to the backward season and to the fact that a great many people do not know the goods we carry, we find ourselves overstocked with a few lines which it will be necessary to reduce. To do this we will have to cut the price and cut it deep to sell the following goods in the shortest time possible.

Children's Coats

We have decided all our coats into two lots. Coats made especially for us by one of the largest manufacturers in the country. Each garment is well made, all seams tape bound and good heavy weight.

LOT NO. 1.—This lot contains coats that sold as high as $12.00, sizes are from 4 years to 18 years; any coat in this lot for only $3.95

LOT NO. 2.—This lot comprises all our coats that sold as high as $6.00. All go in the one lot, choice for only $1.95

Ladies' Underwear

In this lot of ladies' underwear you will find separate garments and union suits in all wool and part wool. Not a garment in the lot sold for less than $1.00 and a few as high as $1.50 and $2.00. Your choice of either union suits or separate garments, for 79¢

These prices mean a saving to you right now when you need the goods. Don't miss these values or you will be sorry.

Holiday Goods

Just received a big line of holiday goods. Come and look them over, also enter your children for a prize, it is free.

T. P. BURNS

$3000 Worth of Dress Goods and Silks To Be Sold At Once.

Our Dress Goods department is over-loaded. Usually we carry $6,000 worth of dress goods, but our invoice shows $9,000 at the present time. We aim to sell this surplus immediately and have arranged them in 7 lots as follows, making a REDUCTION OF FROM 33 TO 50 PER CENT.

WHEN WE MAKE A BARGAIN IT IS A BARGAIN

LOT NO. 1
Values up to 35¢, at 19¢

This lot consists of Serges, Trico Flannels and English Cashmeres, in black, dark green, blue, and others, all in solid colors.

LOT NO. 2
Values 50¢ and 60¢, at 32¢

They are fancy Mohairs and Serges, in light and dark colors, in checks, stripes and plaids. A bargain at the price of 32¢.

LOT NO. 3
Values 50¢, at 39¢

Serges in dark colors, in beautiful plaids and checks, all 1 yard wide. Especially desirable for children's dresses and ladies' plaid waistings. 1 yd. wide, serges, bright plaids in reds, blues, browns, greens, etc. 50¢ values 39¢.

LOT NO. 4
Value $1.00, at 69¢

44-in. fancy all wool Broadcloths, in checks, plaids and stripes, sensible styles (only 1 doz. pieces), for coats, suits, skirts, in brown, blue, and greens.

LOT NO. 5
Value 65¢, at 39¢

24-in. Rajah silk in plain colors, the new evening shades, very pretty for waists and party dresses.

LOT NO. 6
$1.00 value, at 69¢

27-in. wide, all silk Rajahs in tints of blues, grays, pink, etc., in silk plaids and checks for party and street wear. They sell regularly at $1.00. In marking them at 69¢ we are actually selling them at 20% below cost. It has always been our aim to make small margins and sell the goods quickly. In this instance we offer a bargain that is a bargain.

LOT NO. 7
Values up to 65¢, at 29¢

Mixed silks, foulards, fancy wash silks, fancy checks, in light and darks, for fancy waists and children's dresses.

$15 SUITS AND OVERCOATS

UNPARALLELED VALUES AT A MODERATE PRICE

Right now we find some odd and short lots from our fall clothing purchases—goods which sell at $18, $20 and $25—that we shall place on sale while they last at

$15.00

There are suits of the Society Brand for young men which embody all the style and go so near to the heart of the young fellow. Sizes to fit breast measure of 33 to 38 inches.

Suits and Overcoats of Conservative Build

A nice lot of these unassuming styles are included also. Men who enjoy that distinctiveness which goes with good fitting clothing will appreciate this opportunity of purchasing from these odd and short lots of $18, $20 and $25 clothes for $15.00. Sizes complete from 35 to 44 breast measure.

Our Big Show Windows

Will give you a good idea of these Suits and Overcoats. You can judge for yourself of the exceptional merit of the offerings.

Our former sales have made a reputation for us which acts as a guarantee of good faith for this special event.

T. J. ZIEGLER CLOTHING CO.

E. J. SMITH, MANAGER

ALL IS OFF--ABRUZZI

Duke Cancels His Engagement by Cable Message.

CAN'T OVERCOME OBJECTIONS

His Family and That of Miss Elkins Made Conditions Too Difficult—Probably Will Console Himself with Another Arctic Expedition.

Rome, Italy, Dec. 1.—A definite and final has been put to the engagement between the duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins and, according to a well informed authority, there is no probability that it will ever be renewed.

All efforts to ascertain the exact reasons have been unsuccessful, but it is evident that they are based upon family objections on both sides which cannot be overcome.

This information is confirmed by the fact that the Perserveranza of Milan, a newspaper which is regarded as the mouthpiece of the Italian foreign office, declares the engagement is now off. Simultaneously with this publication the duke of the Abruzzi has dispatched a long cable message to Miss Elkins declaring that he has been unable to remove insuperable obstacles to the marriage.

May Make Dash for Pole Again. The duke now intends to undertake a long voyage and probably make another dash for the pole. A few days ago he absented himself from Turin so long that it was thought he had gone to France on route to America, but it was discovered that he had gone to the little village of Courmayeur in the valley of Aosta, where he had a long interview all one night with his affectionate guides, Pettigaz, father and son, who accompanied him into the polar regions. He then returned to Turin. It is believed the guides were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for another exploring adventure.

Why Marriage is Dropped. A final pronouncement is thus put forward by a most credible authority: "It was the duke of the Abruzzi who decided to abandon the marriage when, after mature consideration, he became convinced it was impossible. Not to speak of certain demands made on the Elkins side, the duke became certain that Miss Elkins' position at court would not be what it ought. Then he concluded that it would be best to abandon the marriage and not expose the young woman to further publicity and press gossip. The Elkins family concurred in the decision and then the duke's cable message closed the affair."

The Perserveranza ends its comments as follows: "Thus there remains of this unpleasant episode only the unpleasant memory of the indecent, acrobatic behavior of the yellow section of the American press."

Abruzzi Ring a Joke? Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 1.—A new story has come to light regarding the package sent from Italy to Miss Katherine Elkins and opened by the postmaster at Elkins, W. Va. It was at first declared the package contained a $5,000 ruby engagement ring on which no duty had been paid. On this theory the ring was turned over to the collector of the port at Pittsburg, in absence of the payment of $3,000 duty.

Now, it appears that the Elkinses have possession of the ring. The value, it is said, is $11,750, the duty which the Elkinses paid $1,500. Friends of the family deny the duke of the Abruzzi was ungallant enough to send such a gift, and claim it was mailed in Turin by some jester.

FLEET ON WAY TO CEYLON.

Admiral Sperry and His Battleships Sail from Manila.

Manila, Dec. 1.—The American battleship fleet under Rear Admiral Sperry sailed promptly at eight o'clock Tuesday morning. The next port of call is Colombo, Ceylon.

There was a series of sports and other amusements on shore Monday for the men, and about 1,500 sailors landed. Admiral Sperry and a number of officers were the guests at a reception given by the German Tobacco Company, and in the evening they attended a reception and ball at Fort McKinley given by the army.

Austrian Ambassador Decorated. Washington, Dec. 1.—Baron Hengolmuller von Hengolm, ambassador of Austria-Hungary to the United States, has received from Emperor Francis Joseph the grand cross of the Order of Leopold. Next Wednesday will mark the sixtieth anniversary of the accession to the throne of the emperor, who has taken this means of rewarding the ambassador in connection with that occasion for his faithful and meritorious service.

Scout Cruiser Race Delayed. Newport, R. I., Dec. 1.—The ocean race of the scout cruisers Salmon, Chester and Birmingham to the Azores, which was expected to take place about Christmas, cannot be held until some time after the beginning of the year, according to naval officers here. More than a month at least must elapse, it is said, before any of the cruisers will be in condition for the great race.

Mrs. Eleanor Cowper Dies. New York, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Eleanor Cowper, the actress and author, who shot herself at the St. Regis hotel last Friday, died late Monday night in the Presbyterian hospital.

Provoking. "Dear me," said Mrs. Podgers, "I do wish you'd quit bothering me when I'm writin' letters. You've gone and made me leave the o out of Sylvester."

CANADIANS DEFEATED BY TAFT AND BOURNE

International Golf Match at Hot Springs—President-Elect Mourns for Richard Lindsay.

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 1.—An international golf game was played here Monday between the president-elect of the United States and Senator Bourne of Oregon on one side and R. S. Borden, Conservative leader of the Canadian parliament, and G. H. Parley, Conservative member of the same body, on the other. The United States won by a score of "8 up."

Secretary William Haywood and Western Treasurer Fred W. Upham of the Republican national committee, called on Mr. Taft Monday on their way west from the Hitchcock dinner at Washington.

"We just talked over the campaign in a merry mood," said Mr. Taft. "Their visit was but a friendly call, having no political or other significance."

The president-elect was Monday invited to attend the annual dinner of the Jewelers' National Association at Providence, R. I. He has not decided the matter.

Judge Taft admitted that he was receiving numerous suggestions from many sources as to who should be in his cabinet. "But I notice that very few suggestions are coming regarding the state department portfolio," he added.

Judge Taft was greatly affected by the news of the death of Richard Lindsay in Washington Monday. Mr. Lindsay, an old friend of Mr. Taft as a Washington correspondent, had been with him a greater part of the time during the campaign. After the election Mr. Lindsay came here on the initiative of the president-elect. Before he left, he, on Thanksgiving day, Mr. Taft spent some time in his room at the hotel. "Dick was one of those fine men we meet in life who give us a higher regard for human nature," was the sorrowful comment of Mr. Taft.

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—Announcement was made by the University of Pennsylvania Monday that President-elect Taft will deliver the oration at the University day celebration to be held on Washington's birthday. This day has been observed for many years with great ceremony, and among those who have delivered the oration in later years were President McKinley, President Roosevelt and Joseph H. Choate.

Sunday Afternoon Newspaper. Washington, Dec. 1.—The Washington Times, a one-cent evening paper, makes the announcement that its Sunday edition will hereafter appear in the afternoon instead of the morning, at the week-day price. This is believed to be the second instance of a Sunday afternoon newspaper in the United States.

Harriman Suit is Opened. New York, Dec. 1.—The government began taking testimony here Tuesday in the suits to dissolve the Union Pacific railroad system as a merger in restraint of trade under the Sherman anti-trust act. The bill asks the court to set aside the ownership by the Union Pacific railroad of its subsidiaries, the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific and the Oregon Short Line, and of the stock in the Atchafalpa, Topoka and Santa Fe, the Great Northern, and the Northern Pacific roads, the roads being deemed to be competitors of the Union Pacific.

Townsend to Run for Senator. Jackson, Mich., Dec. 1.—Congressman Charles E. Townsend of the Second Michigan district announced Monday night that he was not a candidate for speaker of the national house of representatives, and said that he would be a candidate for United States senator two years hence.

Frisco Police Chief Drowned. San Francisco, Dec. 1.—Chief of Police Hickey of San Francisco was drowned off Alcatraz island late Monday night.

THE CURSE OF DRINK

Most men drink because they say it doesn't hurt them and makes them feel better. Here is what the leading medical dictionary says of alcohol:

"Internally it is a powerful, mental excitant, in large doses, a depressing narcotic."

With this truth before you do you wonder that when a man's system becomes accustomed to this poison, that your arguments and pleadings fail to stop him from drinking?

He can no more stop without medical aid, than can the opium, morphine or cocaine user.

White Ribbon Remedy will remove the alcohol from his system and cause him to even hate the smell of liquor.

You don't have to get his consent to take White Ribbon Remedy as it is a perfectly harmless powder, that has neither taste, odor or color. You can give it to him in any food or drink, even in plain water.

So confident are we that White Ribbon Remedy will destroy all desire for liquor in any person, that we agree to return your money if it fails to do so.

Get a free sample and book in plain package by writing White Ribbon Remedy Co., Boston, Mass. Only $1.00 per package.

SPECIAL SELLING AGENTS
Smith Drug Co.

PINE BLUFF FEARS

Citizens Determine to Divert the Arkansas River.

FLOOD DANGER IS IMMINENT

Several Large Buildings Are in Peril of Collapse and High Waters Are Approaching—Plan Includes Cutting of Government Levee.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Dec. 1.—Citizens of Pine Bluff held a mass meeting Monday to devise measures to save the city, which is threatened with flood if the weakened banks of the Arkansas river give way. It was determined that the channel of the river should be diverted by cutting through a strip of land a few miles to the north where a horse-shoe bend begins.

This plan, if successful, while leaving Pine Bluff away from the main channel, would eliminate, it is believed, the danger of an overflow which would cause the destruction of a large amount of property.

The action of the mass meeting followed reports of the coming of a 16-foot rise in the river, the crest of which would probably reach Pine Bluff by Wednesday, and the sloughing off of a large piece of the bank, which has been gradually caving in for several months, following the recent flood.

Big Buildings in Danger. During the flood of October 4 large warehouses were practically destroyed, and Monday a great crack was discovered in the big two-story warehouse of L. M. Knox, which has been clinging on the brink of the caving bank. That it is inevitable that this structure will go down is the opinion of building experts, and the safety of the Jefferson hotel, a $100,000 structure, and the Jefferson county bank and the courthouse is feared, as the bank has been eaten to within 30 feet of these buildings.

The government fleet arrived at Pine Bluff Saturday and a large force has been hard at work preparing for the construction of revetments, but it is said that this work will take two to three months.

In cutting through the strip of land, about 300 yards, as proposed, it will be necessary to cut through a great levee constructed several years ago. While this would doubtless be in violation of federal laws, the citizens who participated in the meeting have promised to assume responsibility to the government and to property owners for any damage that may ensue.

Oklahoma Floods Receding. Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 1.—Oklahoma rivers which have been overflowing their banks and doing damage in many localities are slowly receding and it is believed all danger is past. Train service is being restored on all roads. So far as is known there has been no loss of life, and the property damage will not be so great as in the floods of a few months ago. Monday the public schools here were closed, there being no water available for steam heat, the waterworks plant being flooded.

LONG-BOUGHT MEN ARRESTED.

Three Alleged Safeblowers and Post Office Burglars Taken.

Hot Springs, Ark., Dec. 1.—Three alleged safe blowers and post-office burglars whose trail of operation, it is declared, extends throughout the whole of the Mississippi valley, were arrested here Monday, valued examination before a United States commissioner in special session, and half an hour later were locked up in separate cells awaiting their removal to Danville, Ill., one of the places where they are under indictment.

Charles Gallagher, leader of the band, who travels under the aliases of Charles McMullin, "Laughing" Charlie and Charles Martin, was the first arraigned. Joe McCarthy, alias "Big Mack" and William Strong, alias "Yegg" Billie, are the others.

The arrests were made by Chief Inspector C. L. Patterson and A. D. Brunson of the St. Louis secret service office, who have been searching for the men for the greater part of three years. The men made no statements when arraigned.

Well-Known Gambler Slain. Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 1.—Fred Crow was stabbed to death Monday night at the door of his room in the Northern hotel by Jake Eldridge and a companion named Cochran. Crow was one of the best known figures in the gambling fraternity in this city and was known all over the south.

Big Blaze in Knoxville, Tenn. Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 1.—A three-story brick building occupied by the Clark Hat Company and the Knoxville Implement & Machinery Company was greatly damaged by fire Monday night, causing an almost total loss of stock to each firm. The loss is $52,000.

Threats to Lynch a Slayer. Marion, O., Dec. 1.—Following the killing of J. W. C. Jackson, a farmer, 60 years old, on his place near Marion late Monday by H. T. Curry, a railroad detective, mobs formed on the streets and threatened to lynch Curry, who surrendered himself.

H. W. Taft Also a President. New York, Dec. 1.—Henry W. Taft, brother of President-elect William H. Taft, was elected Monday night president of the Ohio Society of New York, succeeding Col. M. J. McCook.

Scott's Emulsion

clothes the nerves and muscles with warm fat, fills the veins with rich blood.

It makes children rugged and hardy and fearless of the cold. It fills the whole body with warmth and life and energy.

Thin people sometimes gain a pound a day while taking it.

Send this advertisement, together with name of newspaper in which it appears, your address and four cents to cover postage, and we will send you a "Complete Handy Atlas of the World."

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York

TWO-CENT RATE TO STAND.

Supreme Court Reverses Pritchard in the Virginia Case.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Railroads and other litigants seeking to prevent the execution of state laws by obtaining injunctions from United States judges were rebuffed Monday by the supreme court and warned that their rights in the courts of the state seeking to enforce the statute must be exhausted before an appeal is taken to the federal jurisdiction.

This rebuke was given in the case of the Virginia two-cent passenger fare rate. The court, in an opinion by Justice Holmes, held that the interest of railroads should have taken their case through the various state courts and not rushed before Judge Pritchard and secured an injunction. The opinion of Judge Pritchard that the Virginia state corporation commission had administrative and not judicial functions was reversed, the supreme court deciding that the commission has legislative and not judicial functions.

The supreme court did not pass upon the question involved in the litigation. It did not determine whether a two-cent rate is confiscatory or otherwise.

TANG SHAO-YI AT CAPITAL.

Chinese Special Embassy Is Received at Washington.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Tang Shao-Yi, president of the Chinese board and created a special ambassador for this occasion, arrived in Washington Monday bearing the thanks of a grateful people for the remittance by the American government of a large part of the Boxer indemnity. He was accompanied by Prince Tsai Fu, a member of the Chinese royal family, and a noted group of attaches.

The party was met by Huntington Wilson, third assistant secretary of state, and escorted to two residences in an excellent section of the city, where the visitors will be housed during their stay of three or four months.

A certain young artist in New York, who is on terms of comparative intimacy with the janitor of the apartment-house wherein he maintains his studio, is in some doubt whether the said janitor is a cynic, or something of an art critic, or both.

"One day, while doing a bit of repair work in the studio," says the painter, "Mike scrutinized a bit of my work with ominous solemnity. When I indicated a portrait of myself the blow fell. Said I:

"The paint on this is badly cracked, which spoils the likeness." "With no more expression in his countenance than is to be seen in the face of a representation of Buddha, Mike replied:

"Not at all, sir."—Harper's Weekly.

Late Hours for Rising in England.

There is one signal disadvantage in London—and, indeed, in English life, for the practice apparently embraces the entire country—and this is the appalling late hours for rising. Everywhere in nine o'clock the breakfast hour; nothing, so to speak, is open till ten o'clock, and this absolute loss of all the morning makes a great difference if one has anything to do. On the continent one may always have breakfast by seven o'clock, as in our own country; but the universal late breakfast here, with luncheon at from 1:30 to two and dinner at eight or nine o'clock, makes conditions difficult for those accustomed to earlier hours.

10c TO STOP THAT ITCH.

How Easy to Get Relief—Instant Relief—From Skin Disease.

Is it worth 10 cents to you to stop that awful agonizing itch?

If you are afflicted with skin disease the kind that seems to baffle medical treatment, and leaves you with wild itch, we hope you will not fail to investigate a prescription which is now recommended by many of the best skin specialists, even in preference to their own prescriptions. It is the simple soothing oil of wintergreen compound known as D. D. D. Prescription. A 10 cent trial bottle must convince you that the itch is instantly allayed by this prescription. Get a liberal trial bottle of the healing, soothing, external remedy, D. D. D. Prescription—and see!

We feel quite sure that before long you will be cured, and at any rate you know—KNOW POSITIVELY—that your itch will be allayed instantly, the minute that soothing liquid is applied to the skin.

J. P. Baker, Holmströms Drug Store. Write direct to D. D. D. Co., 112 Michigan St., Chicago, enclosing 10 cents for the trial bottle.

KILL WISCONSIN MAN

JOHN P. GEDNEY SHOT WHILE IN MINNEAPOLIS.

ROBBED AND MURDERED

That is Theory of Police of Minnesota Metropolis, in Regard to Mysterious Circumstances of His Death.

Onalaska, Dec. 1.—According to the notice sent Monday to the family of John P. Gedney of Onalaska, who was found dead at Minneapolis, Mr. Gedney was shot dead.

The family went to Minneapolis. Mr. Gedney had been in business in Onalaska, a suburb of La Crosse, for ten years. He is a man who carried large sums of money on his person and the theory that he was murdered for his money is generally believed here. It is supposed that he had been robbed and thrown over a bridge by the highwaymen or that he accidentally fell from the bridge.

Lumber Merger Denied. Duluth, Minn., Dec. 1.—Upon his return from Chicago Monday, W. H. Cook, president of the Virginia Lumber Company, gave an emphatic denial to the report that the Weyerhaeuser and Illinois interests had consolidated with the Cook & O'Brien lumber interest for the purpose of controlling the lumber output of Minnesota, Wisconsin and part of Ontario.

"There is nothing to it," said Mr. Cook. "Neither has the Duluth, Itasca Lake & Winnipeg railroad passed into the control of any other interests. You can say there is nothing in the whole story of the consolidation of our interests with those of the Weyerhaeuser people."

5,000 Wisconsin Deer Slain.

Madison, Dec. 1.—It has been estimated that at least 5,000 deer have been slaughtered in Wisconsin this season and that number falls far below the average. This is accounted for in a great measure by unfavorable weather conditions. At the season's opening the woods were dry and hunters had great difficulty in approaching the game. With first snowfall many deer were brought down, but following warm and wet weather led many hunters to leave with one deer before the meat had spoiled, rather than take a chance waiting for cold weather or snow.

Gives Skin for Brother.

La Crosse, Dec. 1.—That she might save the life of her brother, Miss Mary Rehan of Arcadia submitted to having four large pieces of her skin grafted on the chest of Anton Rehan at a local hospital. Anton was severely burned some time ago and when his sister came to visit him who was told that skin grafting alone would save the boy. She willingly submitted to the operation which has been pronounced successful.

Child Is Badly Burned.

La Crosse, Dec. 1.—Standing almost directly in front of the large coal stove when an explosion of coal gas occurred, Vera, the four-year-old daughter of James Dugan of West La Crosse, was seriously and perhaps dangerously burned about the face and head.

Shoots Little Cousin.

Kenosha, Dec. 1.—Lillian Christensen, aged 13 years, daughter of Marcus Christensen, a well-to-do farmer residing just south of Kenosha, was shot and it is feared fatally wounded at the Christensen home by her cousin, John Christensen, an 18-year-old boy.

Read the Want Ads.

A Skin of Beauty Is a Joy Forever

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

Removes Tan, Freckles, Redness, Pimples, and every blemish on beauty, and restores the lost color of the face. It is so simple and so effective that it is the only preparation of its kind. It is the only preparation of its kind. It is the only preparation of its kind.

FERD. T. HOPKINS, Prop., 37 Great Jones Street, New York.

Meerschmum and Briar Pipes

For Christmas Gifts.

We especially invite the ladies to call and look over our large and varied assortment.

We have put quality before price, but quality for quality our prices beat the market. Every Pipe bears a written guarantee and the prices are all in plain figures.

From $1.00 up to $5.00.

Also other Pipes at 25c, 50c and 75c.

SMITH'S PHARMACY. The Rexall Store. Kodaks and Kodak Supplies.

Also other Pipes at 25c, 50c and 75c.

SMITH'S PHARMACY. The Rexall Store. Kodaks and Kodak Supplies.

Also other Pipes at 25c, 50c and 75c.

SMITH'S PHARMACY. The Rexall Store. Kodaks and Kodak Supplies.

Also other Pipes at 25c, 50c and 75c.

Let Kodol

Digest what you eat. Then you can Eat what you like.

You once could eat anything you wanted, and your stomach would digest it. But now there's some things which your stomach won't digest. Your stomach absolutely refuses to accommodate you when you eat certain food—so you have been forced by your stomach to eat food which you detested, and pass up those delicacies that you would have really enjoyed.

There is a way now to eat any thing you like, if you will let Kodol digest it.

Kodol will do it, too. It won't talk back or command, but will go right ahead with its work and digest all the food you eat. Kodol will let you eat anything you like and all you want, and you won't suffer with that dull feeling, that fullness, and wish you hadn't eaten so much.

You will not have that heart-burn, which is so annoying at times, if you will let Kodol digest your food a while.

You don't have to use Kodol long—only for a little while—just long enough for your stomach to rest a little. It gets tired sometimes, too—just the same as anybody or part of your body that works.

Kodol will do exactly what your stomach does, when your stomach is well and strong, and more, when it is tired or out of order. Kodol is composed of exactly the same juices as found in a healthy stomach, and therefore will do the same work as the stomach, when it is well and strong—the only difference is, Kodol never gets tired—and Kodol is the only digestant today, that will digest all food and do it as completely, as a strong, healthy stomach.

Get a bottle now and have it ready to help your stomach at times when you need an assistant. Kodol is at the nearest drug store.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 24 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. Dewitt & Co., Chicago.

SOLD BY J. P. BAKER AND OTHER DRUGGISTS.

A REMARKABLE SALE

—OF—

Rich, American Cut Glass

A Great Purchase Secured Just in Time For Holiday Shoppers

RICH AMERICAN CUT GLASS 8-INCH BOWL, beautifully cut in artistic Navarra cutting, special sale price $2.00. They should not last long at above price.

HANDSOME AMERICAN CUT 6-INCH COMPOT, 10 inches high Sunburst cutting, just out. Sale price for early shoppers, $1.50.

AMERICAN CUT LOW JELLY OR SALAD, Sunburst cutting, 7-inch bowl, cut star bottom, special for holiday gifts, $1.00.

BEAUTIFUL AMERICAN CUT 8-INCH SALAD BOWL, Sun Burst pattern, cut star bottom, $1.25.

CUT GLASS SALT AND PEPPER SHAKES, with sanitary glass screw caps to prevent corroding, 50¢. Silver and glass caps cut shakes at 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

CHAS. S. PUTNAM

Furniture, Crockery and Glassware

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

CORYDON G. DWIGHT, M. D.

207 Jackson Block Practitioner limited to EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
CLASSES FITTED
Consultation from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5, and by appointment.
New phone 890 red. Old phone 2782.

HILTON &amp; SADLER.

ARCHITECTS
Deliver the Goods.
"NUF SED."
Office on the bridge, Janesville.

Thos. S. Nolan. H. W. Adams.
C. W. Reeder.

NOLAN, ADAMS &amp; REEDER

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
311-313 Jackson Bldg., Janesville, Wis.
308-309 Goodwin Building, Beloit, Wis.

Edwin F. Carpenter.
Henry F. Carpenter.

CARPENTER &amp; CARPENTER

LAWYERS
Carpenter Block, Janesville, Wis.
New Phone 875.

D. F. Dunwiddie. Wm. G. Wheeler.
DUNWIDDIE & WHEELER

Attorneys and Counselors.
Janesville, Wis.

1216 W. Milwaukee St.

W. H. BLAIR

ARCHITECT.

Room 3, Phoenix Block, Janesville.

French Court
Beauties

used a cold cream similar to our CUTANO.
It should be remembered that the famous beauties of the courts of Louis XV and Louis XVI and of the Napoleonic period, women whose loveliness is historic, used only fatty creams and ointments, made principally from the oils of sweet almond and the olive, preparations similar in composition to the CUTANO Cold Cream, though doubtless less skillfully combined. Modern women do well to follow the lead of those gifted exponents of the cosmetic art of the last century, as nothing can be better than the best.

It is well to be sure as to the composition of the creams you employ. We guarantee CUTANO to meet the standard of highest excellence.
CUTANO Cold Cream may be applied with benefit to chafed, irritated or chapped skin, and is an excellent preventive of rough and red hands and faces. It is an admirable skin food, nourishing and building up wasted tissues, and has no superior as a massage cream.

Sells in 25c jars containing 2 ozs.

McCUE &amp; BUSS

So, Main St.
Have you asked about our Thelma?

Glass Hat Pin Holders for making Xmas Gifts, 5c.
SMITH'S PHARMACY.

Cullen's Clean Coal

My clean coal we mean that it is thoroughly screened.
Our Beranton coal is bright, clean, hard, no dirt.
Our yard being the most centrally located in the city we can get out orders promptly.
Give us a trial order and we will please you.

Cullen Bros.

115 N. Bluff. Both phones.

HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS

Christmas will soon be here so we urge early buying.
A vast assortment of dainty handkerchiefs, at 10c, 15c, 25c and 35c
each.
Woodworth's perfume, at 10c, 15c,
25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.
Phoenix muffs in fancy boxes, at 50c.
Silk muffs, fancy colors, at 75c,
$1.00 and $1.25 each.
Men's neckwear, pretty patterns, in four-in-hands and neckties, at 25c
each.
Nifty designed suspenders in boxes,
at 50c.
Kid or mocha gloves and mittens,
at 85c, $1.00 and $1.50 a pair.
Heavy for mittens, at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00 a pair.

MRS. E. HALL

NOTICE.
We are paying highest market prices for furs, rubbers, iron and metal. If you have any to sell call old phone 3512 or new phone 1012. We also buy and sell 2nd hand machinery. We have a line of lathes, drills, 2nd, rails, pipes, etc.
ROSTEIN BROS.
62 S. River St.

RALPH R. BENNETT

PIANO TUNING
924 Park Ave. Beloit, Wis.
Graduate New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass.
Leaves orders at J. P. Baker's Drug Store.

MANY VISIT MILTON
FOR THANKSGIVING

Old Residents and Guests Partook of the National Bird on Thursday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milton, Dec. 1.—Among the people who came here to spend Thanksgiving were Prof. H. T. Jackson, D. N.
Ingles and wife, S. N. Lovell and wife and W. T. Crandall, Madison; Miss Blinworth, Wausau; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carr and Mrs. Jno. Can-ningham and sons of Janesville; Miss C. H. Leonard of Evansville; Mr. and Mrs. Koch of Palestine, Ill.; Mrs. Ruth Bull of Eau Claire; Miss Lena Lampert of South Milwaukee; H. W.
Rood and wife, Madison; W. A. Jackson of Milwaukee; Eugene J. Goble, Appleton; Dr. Geo. W. Post, Chicago;
F. L. Campbell and wife, Edgerton;
Miss Hazel North, Evansville; S. S.
Stammers and wife of Monroe; Mrs.
L. C. Burdick, Janesville; Dr. A. L.
Burdick and wife, Janesville; Frank Bullis, Rockford; Geo. J. Hurley, Chicago.

The recent rains have put the earth in fine condition for the advent of winter.

R. W. Clarke and wife spent turkey day at Madison; Rev. W. T. Miller, wife and daughter at Janesville; H.
C. Rialton and wife at Edgerton; Jas.
McKean and wife and Miss Mary Hanna, at Lima Center; Miss Della Plumb at Tomahawk.

The remains of the late Fred Hamilton, Bond of Fond du Lac, were brought here for burial Monday. The death of the deceased resulted from a fall from the doorsteps of his residence. He spent his boyhood in this village and was well known in the community.

Dr. L. L. Bond of DeLeon, Iowa, father of deceased and a daughter accompanied the body. Brief services were held at the grave conducted by President Dahland and the college quartet furnished music.

Mrs. L. A. Babcock and children returned from Hammond, La., Wednesday.

O. E. Oratt and R. H. Saunders returned music for a dancing party at Fontana Thanksgiving night.

Dr. J. H. Burdick, wife and several of the younger children will go to Dayton, Fla., next week to visit relatives.

Mrs. M. E. Peck has moved to Cambridge.

Mrs. Eva Hawkes of Madison has been visiting Mrs. A. B. Lee.

Miss Anna Plumb of the Walworth high school spent her Thanksgiving vacation here.

Capt. S. M. Bond returned from Sobrasima Monday.

Nov. Dr. H. H. left for Philadelphia Monday, to attend a national religious gathering.

MARRIED WEDNESDAY
AT HOME OF BRIDE

Dennett Devine, formerly of Evan-ville, Weds. Iowa Girl—To Reside in South Dakota.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Evansville, Nov. 30.—Word has been received here of the marriage of Mr. Dennett Devine to Miss Blanche Alkminis of Gray, Iowa. The ceremony took place Wednesday, Nov. 25, at Audubon, Iowa, and the happy couple leave the first of this week for their home, Athol, S. D., where the groom owns a large farm.
They will be at home to their friends after Dec. 1st. Mr. Devine is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Devine and lived near Evansville until a short time ago and has many friends here who wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

On last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Meyers opened to their many friends their beautiful new home on First and Second streets, and dedicated it with prayer and song service.
The Rev. Gilbert E. Farr of Chicago had charge of the meeting and gave an address. Others who spoke were Rev. L. B. Webb and Prof. Burkholder and those from out of town were Rev.
and Mrs. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. W.
Schallert and daughter of Johnson Creek, Miss Dora Goshko of Watertown, Bert Farr of Portage, Irvin Meyers and James Stevens of Wisconsin university.

Word was received here this morning that Miss Mary Doran died at her home near Edgerton last evening about 7 o'clock. Miss Doran was teacher of the seventh grade here last year, but was obliged to resign owing to ill health.

Miss Lois Griffin of Oregon is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crow. She is on her way to Genoa, Ill., where she goes to spend the winter with relatives.

Mrs. Eugene Smith and little daughters of Arizona are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith. Mrs. Cora Tuttle of Madison has also been visiting at the Smith home.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles R. Wood of Chandlerville, Ill., have been guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. D. Q.
Grallit. They left Saturday for Edgerton Sunday.

Miss Addie Blakely, who is now a teacher at Beaver Dam, spent Thanksgiving vacation with the Blakely relatives.

Mrs. Lolla Ryan is here from Chicago for a visit to her mother, Mrs.
Daniel Wilder.

Mrs. L. M. Bennett and daughter, Mrs. Charles White of Chicago, are spending the week with Miss Anna Patterson.

Miss Emma Stelman of Monroe spent Thursday with Evansville friends.

Axtell Johnson and Louie Aba were in Madison Saturday evening to attend a meeting of the O. R. T.

The Horace K. Turner Lecture Co., of Boston will give a stereopticon lecture in the assembly room of the high school on Saturday evening, Dec. 5, and the subject will be "Four of the White Mountains." The proceeds will be used to purchase a picture for the adornment of the school.

Mrs. William Lewis of Albany spent Friday with local relatives.

Mrs. E. M. Hirsch entertained Saturday evening with Mrs. L. M. Bennett and Mrs. Charles White as the honored guests.

Will Johnson is here from Columbus to spend today with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Johnson.

Mrs. Arthur Cain and two children of Footville spent Sunday here with relatives.

Mrs. Will Blakely entertained a company of relatives at a 1 o'clock dinner last Friday.

Rev. G. E. Farr occupied the pulpit at the sanctuary chapel last evening.

P. C. Wilder was a business visitor in Madison Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Borchardt and two children have returned to their home in Janesville, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. H. Schellin.

Mrs. Max Brown of Newville is here to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Wadley, who has been ill for several days, but is now improving.

Alex. Richardson, Jr., has gone to Footville, where he has employment.

The W. E. M. S. of the M. E. church will hold their regular monthly meeting next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. S. Shepard.

Miss Grace of Madison spent yesterday with Evansville friends.

Miss Martha Ames and her brother Paul entertained the employees in the office of the Baker Mfg. Co. and a few of their friends at their pleasant home near Brooklyn, Saturday evening.

Frederic E. Jones of Chicago spent Saturday and Sunday with local relatives.

Miss Ethel Roberts of Janesville has been the guest of Miss Marian Purinton.

Chas. Caldwell of Waterloo,
Iowa, has been spending a few days here with his brother, Samuel Cal-dwaller.

Marshall Pratt of Minnesota and William Pratt of Racine are here as guests of Mrs. M. V. Pratt. The government contemplate raising tobacco on a large scale, and are here to obtain information in regard to the cultivation, curing, etc. Marshall Pratt drove the entire distance from his home in Minnesota and will go from here to Racine.

John Clemmer went to Monroe Saturday to stay a short time with relatives.

Mrs. Warren Cain has been sick for several days.

Miss W. Wadsworth has returned from a brief visit to relatives in Jefferson. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hutt and daughter visited relatives in Milton
Saturday last week.

Frank Dunack, who has been here work at the Janesville Business college this morning.

Miss Edie Plumb has been spending a few days with relatives in Juda.
Mr. Gimbell spent Thursday in Chicago.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT FOR $1900

Action Against City of Monroe by Mrs.
Dessinger Compromised by Attorneys.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monroe, Wis., Dec. 1.—The damage suit brought against the city by the widow of A. D. Dessinger, who died of injuries received by falling into an unguarded hole in the sidewalk on the square, was settled today for $1,900.
Suit was brought for over $6,000. The plaintiff suggested $2,500 as a compromise price when the matter was discussed last week but the city offered only $1,500. Counsel for the plaintiff then asked both sides compromise $500 but the city would give only $1,600. The case was the second on yesterday's docket in circuit court for Green county and three jurors had been drawn when attorneys for both sides asked that a conference be held outside the court room as a settlement seemed possible. It was finally agreed that $1,900 would suffice and the city consented to pay the money and have the suit stopped.

Fred Roth, a schoolteacher, had his left leg amputated above the knee at the Loothnow hospital yesterday.

Dr. W. H. Palmer, of Janesville, and Mrs. R. H. Clark and W. B. Gaud performed the amputation. Mr. Roth suffered an injury to his leg by a horse's kick five years ago and had suffered great pain since then. Amputation was resorted to in order to save his life.

The tax rate on property in Monroe will be about $1.50 on every $100 this year or 20 cents higher than it was in 1907. The increase is caused by the shortage in the appropriation for the state and county tax last year and the fact that this same tax will be from $1,500 to $2,000 more this year than it was in 1907. In the neighborhood of $50,000 will be needed to meet state and county tax, which will be about $21,000, and run the city's affairs for the coming year.

Will Hilde, formerly of Monroe, is here from Nashville, Tenn., having made a business trip to Grand Rapids.

LIVING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Glow of Health Speaks for Postum.

It requires no scientific training to discover whether coffee disagrees or not.

Simply stop it for a time and use Postum in place of it, then note the beneficial effects. The truth will appear.

"Six years ago I was in a very bad condition," writes a Tenn. lady. "I suffered from indigestion, nervousness and insomnia.

"I was then an inveterate coffee drinker, but it was long before I could be persuaded that it was coffee that hurt me. Finally I decided to leave it off a few days and find out the truth.

"The first morning I left off coffee I had a raging headache. I decided I must have something to take the place of coffee." (The headache was caused by the reaction of the coffee drugcaine.)

"Having heard of Postum through a friend who used it, I bought a package and tried it. I did not like it at first but after I learned how to make it right, according to directions on pkg., I would not change back to coffee for anything.

"When I began to use Postum I weighed only 117 lbs. Now I weigh 170 and as I have not taken any tonic in that time I can only attribute my recovery of good health to the use of Postum in place of coffee.

"My husband says I am a living advertisement for Postum. I am glad to be the means of inducing my many friends to use Postum."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Well-being," in pkg. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Mich., where he recently purchased the Harrison Wagon works. Mr. Har-sig is in the farm implement business in Nashville and the wagon works will be moved there from Grand Rapids.

The Green County Medical society will hold its second semi-annual meeting in Broadhead on Dec. 8. The meeting will be in the nature of a clinic and the members of the society are requested to come prepared to give a talk on one of their most interesting cases. They are urged to bring a patient if possible so that the discussion may be all the more valuable.

J. T. Needham, a fire and police commissioner of Beloit, has opened a moving picture show in the Syndicate block in this city.

The sewer line, 5700 feet long, has been completed from the Jordan Condensed Milk company's plant to a point on the main sewer west of the city. The sewer cost the city 63 cents a foot.

Three farmers' institutes will be held in Green county this winter as follows: Athol, Feb. 25 and 26;
Downtown March 2 and 3, and Juda
March 4 and 5.

Link and Pin

North-western Road.

W. A. Gardner, Vice-president of the road, went through to St. Paul on 515 last night in Private Car number 402. He returned to Chicago this morning on first 610.

Train number 510 had two sections this morning. Engineer Hampton and the regular crew on 515 took it south from Janesville to Chicago.

Engineer Starritt and Fireman Meyer took engine 1235 to Harvard, doubleheading number 582.

Engineer Schoenberg reported for work yesterday.

Fireman Wilho is working in the day switch engine, Fireman Hockbush who has been working on it went on the extra board.

Engineer Wilson is laying off.

St. Paul Road:
Engineer Barker and Fireman Boettner went west on number 65 this morning.

Engineer Smith and Fireman Price are working on the sugar beet switch engine today.

Engineer Meyer and Fireman Ken-naugh went out on number 91 this morning.

Engineer Liddle is relieving Engineer Harrington on the work train on the Northwestern line.

Bulletins have been posted from P.
H. Meyers, Superintendent of the C. and M. division announcing that cars of beet pulp from Janesville and Madison to Milwaukee are to be handled in preference.

Engineer Gilbert and Fireman
Driscoll brought the Beloit switch engine 1331 up doubleheading number 128.

Engineer Edward Daves is laying off. Engineer Mend is relieving him on the Racine and Southwestern division.

FOOTVILLE
Footville, Nov. 30.—Blair Pack left Saturday for his home near Milwaukee.

Rabbits seem to be very plentiful and our hunters are having great times hunting.

Miss Louella Hawk returned to Milwaukee Sunday night after spending the Thanksgiving vacation here at her home.

Mrs. Angelo Evans left Friday for her home in Iowa.

Miss Cora Curry of Beloit visited here with relatives the latter part of the week.

The Misses Janet and Margarette
Bonds entertained the following at 2 o'clock last Saturday night: Miss Luella Hawk, Mrs. Florence Fraser and Mrs. Jennie Truorrah.

Quite a crowd attended the Thanksgiving services Thursday night.

The Children's day program which was to have been given Sunday night at the Christian church was again postponed on account of rain and will be given next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chipman and Mr.
and Mrs. Ray Bacon of Janesville spent Thanksgiving at the parental home.

Mrs. Maggie McGovern and daughter of Janesville visited here Wednesday and Thursday.

John Torphy, Jr., has returned home from Montana, where he spent most of the summer.

Mrs. Wallace Cochrane of Janesville visited at the home of F. W. Snyder, Saturday.

Mrs. Roy Silverthorn and son Glenn visited in Hanover, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. J. M. Fox was called to the mortuary house of the state Monday by the serious illness of her mother.
She left Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Tena Snyder.

Miss Grace Hatch of Brooklyn spent the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of Wm. Honeysett.

Miss Tillie Shoemaker of Janesville is visiting at the home of her parents west of town.

Tom Heron and sister, Mrs. Fred Honeysett, spent Friday in Beloit.
Miss Dolly Strong entertained Miss Snider of Beloit last week.

Mrs. N. Charleston and children went to Beloit Friday and returned home Sunday afternoon.

EMERALD GROVE.

Emerald Grove, Dec. 1.—On Thursday of this week the Ladies' Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. J. A. McArthur.
Pleasant dinner will be served and everyone is invited.

Leon Jones was a Sunday visitor at his home.

Remember the date of the annual fair of the Ladies' Auxiliary Friday evening, Dec. 11. Each member of the society is requested to donate a box containing an article worth not less than twenty-five cents, the boxes to be sold unopened. Donations from ladies who are not members will be gratefully received.

Bertha and James Crooks spent a few days of last week with Madison relatives.

Philo Komp spent Thanksgiving with relatives at Fort Atkinson.

The young people who attended the birthday party of Millmore Cuckow report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Janderson of Janesville were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Lloyd on Thanksgiving.

Miss Ruth Wetmore entertained
Miss Edna Brundage of Janesville
Thanksgiving day.

MAGNOLIA CORNERS

Magnolia Corners, Nov. 30.—Mrs.
Martha Gray is visiting relatives in Chicago.

A number of friends spent a week ago Sunday evening with Miss Harzel Wilcott.

Mrs. John Gorey, who has been visiting relatives in Chicago, returned home last week.

Frank Korsten was an Evansville visitor Saturday evening.

A large crowd attended the dance at the glass factory in South Marquette Saturday evening.

Ernest Harnack and Richard Mc-Coy were Evansville visitors Saturday evening.

Minley St. John returned to Beloit
Saturday after spending the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dora Mable.

Mrs. Mayer is on the sick list.
Some parties attended the dance
Thanksgiving evening at Broughton's
Opera House, in Broadhead.

Mrs. Dora Mable and daughter Lottie were Evansville visitors one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Eastman and family attended services at the A. C. Church Sunday morning.

To Heat a Cold Corner

Don't sit in the cold—a touch of a match—a steady flow of genial warmth and in the corner that's hard to heat you'll have real solid comfort with a

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

Just what you need to help out in a cold snap or between seasons. No smoke—no smell—no bother

It's the smokeless device that does it. As easy to operate and clean as a lamp. Brass font holds 4 quarts—gives intense heat for 9 hours. Finished in nickel and japan—every heater warranted.

The Rayo Lamp is the best all-around lamp made. Equipped with latest improved central draft burner. Made of brass throughout, nickel plated. Just the light to read by—bright and steady. Every lamp warranted. If your dealer doesn't carry the Perfection Oil Heater and Rayo Lamp, write our nearest agency for descriptive circular.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

The Younger Set.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.
Author of "The Fighting Chance," Etc.

Copyright, 1907, by Robert W. Chambers.

"Enter I found her writing a letter at my desk. She left it unfinished when she went to drive, a mere scrap. I thought it best to enclose it, which I do herewith."

"The enclosed he opened: 'Phil, dear, though I have been very ill, I know you are my own husband. All the rest was only a child's dream of terror.'"

"And that was all, only this scrap, scribbled in the easy flowing hand he knew so well. He studied it for a moment or two, then resumed Miss Casson's letter."

"A man stopped our sleigh yesterday, asking if he was not speaking to Mrs. Ruthven. I was a trifle worried and replied that any communication for Mrs. Ruthven could be sent to me."

"That evening two men—gentlemen apparently—came to the house and asked for me. I went down to receive them. One was a Dr. Mallison; the other said his name was Thomas R. Hallam, but gave no business address."

"When I found that they had come without your knowledge and authority I refused to discuss Mrs. Ruthven's condition, and the one who said his name was Hallam spoke rather peremptorily and in a way that made me think he might be a lawyer."

"They got nothing out of me, and they left when I made it plain that I had nothing to tell them."

"I thought it best to let you know about this, though I personally cannot guess what it might mean."

Solvay turned the page: "One other matter worries Miss Bond and myself. The revolver you sent us at my request has disappeared. We are nearly sure Mrs. Ruthven has it—you know who once dressed it as a doll, calling it her army doll—but now we can't find it. She has hidden it somewhere—out of doors in the shrubbery, we think—and Miss Bond and I expect to secure it the next time she takes a fancy to have all her dolls out for a 'dawn party.'"

"Dr. Venson says there is no danger of her doing any harm with it, but wants us to secure it at the first opportunity."

He turned the last page. On the other side were merely the formula of leave taking and Miss Casson's signature.

For awhile he stood in the center of the room, head bent, narrowing eyes fixed; then he folded the letter, pocketed it and walked to the table where a directory lay.

He found the name, Hallam, very easily—Thomas R. Hallam, lawyer, junior in the firm of Spencer, Boyd & Hallam. They were attorneys for Jack Ruthven. He knew that.

Mallison he also found—Dr. James Mallison, who, it appeared, conducted some sort of private asylum on Long Island. What was Ruthven after?

There were clumps of evergreens about tall cedars, a bit of bushy foreland and a stretch of snow. And across this open space of snow a young girl was moving, followed by a white wolfhound. Once she paused, hesitated, looked cautiously around her. Ruthven, hiding behind a bush, saw her thrust her arm into a low evergreen shrub and draw out a shining object that glittered like glass. Then she started toward the house again.

At first Ruthven thought she was his wife. Then he was not sure, and he cast his eyes away and followed, thinking forward among the evergreens. But the youthful, fair child figure kept straight on to the veranda of the house, and Ruthven, curious and determined to find out whether it was Alice or not, left the semi-shelter of the evergreens and crossed the open space just as the woman's figure disappeared around an angle of the veranda.

Vexed, determined not to return without some definite discovery, Ruthven stepped upon the veranda. Just around the angle of the porch he heard a door opening, and he hurried forward, impatient and absolutely unafraid, anxious to get one good look at his wife and be off.

But when he turned the angle of the porch there was no one there. Only an open door confronted him, with a big, mild-eyed wolfhound standing in the doorway looking steadily up at him.

Ruthven glanced somewhat dubiously at the dog; then as the animal made no offensive movement he crossed his dusty deck striving to see inside the house.

He did see—nothing very much, only the same young girl, still in her fur, emerging from an inner room, her arms full of dolls.

In his eagerness to see more Ruthven pushed past the great white dog, who withdrew his head disdainfully from the unceremonious contact, but quietly followed Ruthven into the house, standing beside him, watching him out of great, limpid, deerlike eyes.

But Ruthven no longer heeded the dog. His amused and slightly sneering gaze was fastened on the girl in fur who had entered what appeared to be a living room to the right and now, down on her knees beside a couch, smiling and talking confidentially and quite happily to herself, was placing her dolls against the wall.

Then the great white dog growled very low, and the girl in the fur jacket looked around and up quickly.

Alice! He realized it as she caught his pale eyes fixed on her, and she stared, sprang to her feet, still staring.

But Ruthven instantly began to realize that what he had lost he might not have lost had he been free to shoulder aside the young fellow who had forestalled him. The chance had passed—that particular chance. But he'd never again allow himself to be caught in a position where such a chance could pass him by because he was not legally free to at least make the effort to seize it.

Fear in his soul had kept him from blazing his wife's infidelity to the world as cause for an action against her, but he remembered Neergard's impudent cruise with her on the Niagara, and he had temporarily settled on that as a means to extort revenge, not intending such an action should ever come to trial. And then he learned that Neergard had gone to pieces. That was the second check.

Ruthven needed money. He needed it because he meant to put the ocean between himself and Selwyn before commencing any suit, whatever ground he might choose for entering such a suit. He required capital on which to live abroad during the proceedings if that could be legally arranged. And meanwhile, preliminary to any plan of campaign, he desired to know where his wife was and what might be her actual physical and mental condition.

But Ruthven was totally unprepared for the report brought him by a private agency to the effect that Mrs. Ruthven was apparently in perfect health, living in the country, maintaining a villa and staff of servants; that she might be seen driving a perfectly appointed Cossack sleigh any day with a groom on the rumble and a companion beside her; that she seemed to be perfectly sane, healthy in body and mind, comfortable, happy and enjoying life under the protection of a certain Captain Selwyn, who paid all her bills and at certain times was seen entering or leaving her house at Edgewater.

Excited, incredulous, but hoping for the worst, Ruthven had posted off to his attorneys. To them he had confessed his desire to be rid of Alice. He reported her misconduct with Neergard—which he knew was a lie—her pretense of mental prostration, her disappearance and his last interview with Selwyn in the card room. He also gave a vivid description of that gentleman's disgusting behavior and his threats of violence during that interview.

To all of which his attorneys listened very attentively, bade him have no fear of his life, requested him to make several affidavits and leave the rest to them for the present.

Which he did, without hearing from them until Mr. Hallam telegraphed him to come to Edgewater if he had nothing better to do.

Mr. Hallam was a very busy, very sanguine, very impetuous young man, and when he met Ruthven at the Edgewater station he told him promptly that he had the best case on earth; that he, Hallam, was going to New York on the next train, now almost due, and that Ruthven had better drive over and see for himself how easily his wife maintained her house, kept his Cossack sleigh, with its gray ermine lining, had but just returned from the usual afternoon spin, and the young chateau of Willow Villa was now on the snow-covered lawn, romping with the coachman's huge white wolfhound. Ruthven drove to the villa.

There were clumps of evergreens about tall cedars, a bit of bushy foreland and a stretch of snow. And across this open space of snow a young girl was moving, followed by a white wolfhound. Once she paused, hesitated, looked cautiously around her. Ruthven, hiding behind a bush, saw her thrust her arm into a low evergreen shrub and draw out a shining object that glittered like glass. Then she started toward the house again.

At first Ruthven thought she was his wife. Then he was not sure, and he cast his eyes away and followed, thinking forward among the evergreens. But the youthful, fair child figure kept straight on to the veranda of the house, and Ruthven, curious and determined to find out whether it was Alice or not, left the semi-shelter of the evergreens and crossed the open space just as the woman's figure disappeared around an angle of the veranda.

Vexed, determined not to return without some definite discovery, Ruthven stepped upon the veranda. Just around the angle of the porch he heard a door opening, and he hurried forward, impatient and absolutely unafraid, anxious to get one good look at his wife and be off.

But when he turned the angle of the porch there was no one there. Only an open door confronted him, with a big, mild-eyed wolfhound standing in the doorway looking steadily up at him.

Ruthven glanced somewhat dubiously at the dog; then as the animal made no offensive movement he crossed his dusty deck striving to see inside the house.

He did see—nothing very much, only the same young girl, still in her fur, emerging from an inner room, her arms full of dolls.

In his eagerness to see more Ruthven pushed past the great white dog, who withdrew his head disdainfully from the unceremonious contact, but quietly followed Ruthven into the house, standing beside him, watching him out of great, limpid, deerlike eyes.

But Ruthven no longer heeded the dog. His amused and slightly sneering gaze was fastened on the girl in fur who had entered what appeared to be a living room to the right and now, down on her knees beside a couch, smiling and talking confidentially and quite happily to herself, was placing her dolls against the wall.

Then the great white dog growled very low, and the girl in the fur jacket looked around and up quickly.

Alice! He realized it as she caught his pale eyes fixed on her, and she stared, sprang to her feet, still staring.

But Ruthven instantly began to realize that what he had lost he might not have lost had he been free to shoulder aside the young fellow who had forestalled him. The chance had passed—that particular chance. But he'd never again allow himself to be caught in a position where such a chance could pass him by because he was not legally free to at least make the effort to seize it.

Fear in his soul had kept him from blazing his wife's infidelity to the world as cause for an action against her, but he remembered Neergard's impudent cruise with her on the Niagara, and he had temporarily settled on that as a means to extort revenge, not intending such an action should ever come to trial. And then he learned that Neergard had gone to pieces. That was the second check.

Ruthven needed money. He needed it because he meant to put the ocean between himself and Selwyn before commencing any suit, whatever ground he might choose for entering such a suit. He required capital on which to live abroad during the proceedings if that could be legally arranged. And meanwhile, preliminary to any plan of campaign, he desired to know where his wife was and what might be her actual physical and mental condition.

But Ruthven was totally unprepared for the report brought him by a private agency to the effect that Mrs. Ruthven was apparently in perfect health, living in the country, maintaining a villa and staff of servants; that she might be seen driving a perfectly appointed Cossack sleigh any day with a groom on the rumble and a companion beside her; that she seemed to be perfectly sane, healthy in body and mind, comfortable, happy and enjoying life under the protection of a certain Captain Selwyn, who paid all her bills and at certain times was seen entering or leaving her house at Edgewater.

Excited, incredulous, but hoping for the worst, Ruthven had posted off to his attorneys. To them he had confessed his desire to be rid of Alice. He reported her misconduct with Neergard—which he knew was a lie—her pretense of mental prostration, her disappearance and his last interview with Selwyn in the card room. He also gave a vivid description of that gentleman's disgusting behavior and his threats of violence during that interview.

To all of which his attorneys listened very attentively, bade him have no fear of his life, requested him to make several affidavits and leave the rest to them for the present.

Which he did, without hearing from them until Mr. Hallam telegraphed him to come to Edgewater if he had nothing better to do.

Mr. Hallam was a very busy, very sanguine, very impetuous young man, and when he met Ruthven at the Edgewater station he told him promptly that he had the best case on earth; that he, Hallam, was going to New York on the next train, now almost due, and that Ruthven had better drive over and see for himself how easily his wife maintained her house, kept his Cossack sleigh, with its gray ermine lining, had but just returned from the usual afternoon spin, and the young chateau of Willow Villa was now on the snow-covered lawn, romping with the coachman's huge white wolfhound. Ruthven drove to the villa.

There were clumps of evergreens about tall cedars, a bit of bushy foreland and a stretch of snow. And across this open space of snow a young girl was moving, followed by a white wolfhound. Once she paused, hesitated, looked cautiously around her. Ruthven, hiding behind a bush, saw her thrust her arm into a low evergreen shrub and draw out a shining object that glittered like glass. Then she started toward the house again.

At first Ruthven thought she was his wife. Then he was not sure, and he cast his eyes away and followed, thinking forward among the evergreens. But the youthful, fair child figure kept straight on to the veranda of the house, and Ruthven, curious and determined to find out whether it was Alice or not, left the semi-shelter of the evergreens and crossed the open space just as the woman's figure disappeared around an angle of the veranda.

Vexed, determined not to return without some definite discovery, Ruthven stepped upon the veranda. Just around the angle of the porch he heard a door opening, and he hurried forward, impatient and absolutely unafraid, anxious to get one good look at his wife and be off.

But when he turned the angle of the porch there was no one there. Only an open door confronted him, with a big, mild-eyed wolfhound standing in the doorway looking steadily up at him.

Ruthven glanced somewhat dubiously at the dog; then as the animal made no offensive movement he crossed his dusty deck striving to see inside the house.

He did see—nothing very much, only the same young girl, still in her fur, emerging from an inner room, her arms full of dolls.

In his eagerness to see more Ruthven pushed past the great white dog, who withdrew his head disdainfully from the unceremonious contact, but quietly followed Ruthven into the house, standing beside him, watching him out of great, limpid, deerlike eyes.

But Ruthven no longer heeded the dog. His amused and slightly sneering gaze was fastened on the girl in fur who had entered what appeared to be a living room to the right and now, down on her knees beside a couch, smiling and talking confidentially and quite happily to herself, was placing her dolls against the wall.

Then the great white dog growled very low, and the girl in the fur jacket looked around and up quickly.

Alice! He realized it as she caught his pale eyes fixed on her, and she stared, sprang to her feet, still staring.

But Ruthven instantly began to realize that what he had lost he might not have lost had he been free to shoulder aside the young fellow who had forestalled him. The chance had passed—that particular chance. But he'd never again allow himself to be caught in a position where such a chance could pass him by because he was not legally free to at least make the effort to seize it.

Fear in his soul had kept him from blazing his wife's infidelity to the world as cause for an action against her, but he remembered Neergard's impudent cruise with her on the Niagara, and he had temporarily settled on that as a means to extort revenge, not intending such an action should ever come to trial. And then he learned that Neergard had gone to pieces. That was the second check.

Ruthven needed money. He needed it because he meant to put the ocean between himself and Selwyn before commencing any suit, whatever ground he might choose for entering such a suit. He required capital on which to live abroad during the proceedings if that could be legally arranged. And meanwhile, preliminary to any plan of campaign, he desired to know where his wife was and what might be her actual physical and mental condition.

But Ruthven was totally unprepared for the report brought him by a private agency to the effect that Mrs. Ruthven was apparently in perfect health, living in the country, maintaining a villa and staff of servants; that she might be seen driving a perfectly appointed Cossack sleigh any day with a groom on the rumble and a companion beside her; that she seemed to be perfectly sane, healthy in body and mind, comfortable, happy and enjoying life under the protection of a certain Captain Selwyn, who paid all her bills and at certain times was seen entering or leaving her house at Edgewater.

Excited, incredulous, but hoping for the worst, Ruthven had posted off to his attorneys. To them he had confessed his desire to be rid of Alice. He reported her misconduct with Neergard—which he knew was a lie—her pretense of mental prostration, her disappearance and his last interview with Selwyn in the card room. He also gave a vivid description of that gentleman's disgusting behavior and his threats of violence during that interview.

To all of which his attorneys listened very attentively, bade him have no fear of his life, requested him to make several affidavits and leave the rest to them for the present.

Which he did, without hearing from them until Mr. Hallam telegraphed him to come to Edgewater if he had nothing better to do.

Mr. Hallam was a very busy, very sanguine, very impetuous young man, and when he met Ruthven at the Edgewater station he told him promptly that he had the best case on earth; that he, Hallam, was going to New York on the next train, now almost due, and that Ruthven had better drive over and see for himself how easily his wife maintained her house, kept his Cossack sleigh, with its gray ermine lining, had but just returned from the usual afternoon spin, and the young chateau of Willow Villa was now on the snow-covered lawn, romping with the coachman's huge white wolfhound. Ruthven drove to the villa.

There were clumps of evergreens about tall cedars, a bit of bushy foreland and a stretch of snow. And across this open space of snow a young girl was moving, followed by a white wolfhound. Once she paused, hesitated, looked cautiously around her. Ruthven, hiding behind a bush, saw her thrust her arm into a low evergreen shrub and draw out a shining object that glittered like glass. Then she started toward the house again.

At first Ruthven thought she was his wife. Then he was not sure, and he cast his eyes away and followed, thinking forward among the evergreens. But the youthful, fair child figure kept straight on to the veranda of the house, and Ruthven, curious and determined to find out whether it was Alice or not, left the semi-shelter of the evergreens and crossed the open space just as the woman's figure disappeared around an angle of the veranda.

Vexed, determined not to return without some definite discovery, Ruthven stepped upon the veranda. Just around the angle of the porch he heard a door opening, and he hurried forward, impatient and absolutely unafraid, anxious to get one good look at his wife and be off.

But when he turned the angle of the porch there was no one there. Only an open door confronted him, with a big, mild-eyed wolfhound standing in the doorway looking steadily up at him.

Ruthven glanced somewhat dubiously at the dog; then as the animal made no offensive movement he crossed his dusty deck striving to see inside the house.

He did see—nothing very much, only the same young girl, still in her fur, emerging from an inner room, her arms full of dolls.

In his eagerness to see more Ruthven pushed past the great white dog, who withdrew his head disdainfully from the unceremonious contact, but quietly followed Ruthven into the house, standing beside him, watching him out of great, limpid, deerlike eyes.

But Ruthven no longer heeded the dog. His amused and slightly sneering gaze was fastened on the girl in fur who had entered what appeared to be a living room to the right and now, down on her knees beside a couch, smiling and talking confidentially and quite happily to herself, was placing her dolls against the wall.

Then the great white dog growled very low, and the girl in the fur jacket looked around and up quickly.

Alice! He realized it as she caught his pale eyes fixed on her, and she stared, sprang to her feet, still staring.

But Ruthven instantly began to realize that what he had lost he might not have lost had he been free to shoulder aside the young fellow who had forestalled him. The chance had passed—that particular chance. But he'd never again allow himself to be caught in a position where such a chance could pass him by because he was not legally free to at least make the effort to seize it.

Fear in his soul had kept him from blazing his wife's infidelity to the world as cause for an action against her, but he remembered Neergard's impudent cruise with her on the Niagara, and he had temporarily settled on that as a means to extort revenge, not intending such an action should ever come to trial. And then he learned that Neergard had gone to pieces. That was the second check.

Ruthven needed money. He needed it because he meant to put the ocean between himself and Selwyn before commencing any suit, whatever ground he might choose for entering such a suit. He required capital on which to live abroad during the proceedings if that could be legally arranged. And meanwhile, preliminary to any plan of campaign, he desired to know where his wife was and what might be her actual physical and mental condition.

But Ruthven was totally unprepared for the report brought him by a private agency to the effect that Mrs. Ruthven was apparently in perfect health, living in the country, maintaining a villa and staff of servants; that she might be seen driving a perfectly appointed Cossack sleigh any day with a groom on the rumble and a companion beside her; that she seemed to be perfectly sane, healthy in body and mind, comfortable, happy and enjoying life under the protection of a certain Captain Selwyn, who paid all her bills and at certain times was seen entering or leaving her house at Edgewater.

Excited, incredulous, but hoping for the worst, Ruthven had posted off to his attorneys. To them he had confessed his desire to be rid of Alice. He reported her misconduct with Neergard—which he knew was a lie—her pretense of mental prostration, her disappearance and his last interview with Selwyn in the card room. He also gave a vivid description of that gentleman's disgusting behavior and his threats of violence during that interview.

To all of which his attorneys listened very attentively, bade him have no fear of his life, requested him to make several affidavits and leave the rest to them for the present.

Which he did, without hearing from them until Mr. Hallam telegraphed him to come to Edgewater if he had nothing better to do.

Mr. Hallam was a very busy, very sanguine, very impetuous young man, and when he met Ruthven at the Edgewater station he told him promptly that he had the best case on earth; that he, Hallam, was going to New York on the next train, now almost due, and that Ruthven had better drive over and see for himself how easily his wife maintained her house, kept his Cossack sleigh, with its gray ermine lining, had but just returned from the usual afternoon spin, and the young chateau of Willow Villa was now on the snow-covered lawn, romping with the coachman's huge white wolfhound. Ruthven drove to the villa.

There were clumps of evergreens about tall cedars, a bit of bushy foreland and a stretch of snow. And across this open space of snow a young girl was moving, followed by a white wolfhound. Once she paused, hesitated, looked cautiously around her. Ruthven, hiding behind a bush, saw her thrust her arm into a low evergreen shrub and draw out a shining object that glittered like glass. Then she started toward the house again.

At first Ruthven thought she was his wife. Then he was not sure, and he cast his eyes away and followed, thinking forward among the evergreens. But the youthful, fair child figure kept straight on to the veranda of the house, and Ruthven, curious and determined to find out whether it was Alice or not, left the semi-shelter of the evergreens and crossed the open space just as the woman's figure disappeared around an angle of the veranda.

Vexed, determined not to return without some definite discovery, Ruthven stepped upon the veranda. Just around the angle of the porch he heard a door opening, and he hurried forward, impatient and absolutely unafraid, anxious to get one good look at his wife and be off.

But when he turned the angle of the porch there was no one there. Only an open door confronted him, with a big, mild-eyed wolfhound standing in the doorway looking steadily up at him.

Ruthven glanced somewhat dubiously at the dog; then as the animal made no offensive movement he crossed his dusty deck striving to see inside the house.

He did see—nothing very much, only the same young girl, still in her fur, emerging from an inner room, her arms full of dolls.

In his eagerness to see more Ruthven pushed past the great white dog, who withdrew his head disdainfully from the unceremonious contact, but quietly followed Ruthven into the house, standing beside him, watching him out of great, limpid, deerlike eyes.

But Ruthven no longer heeded the dog. His amused and slightly sneering gaze was fastened on the girl in fur who had entered what appeared to be a living room to the right and now, down on her knees beside a couch, smiling and talking confidentially and quite happily to herself, was placing her dolls against the wall.

Then the great white dog growled very low, and the girl in the fur jacket looked around and up quickly.

Alice! He realized it as she caught his pale eyes fixed on her, and she stared, sprang to her feet, still staring.

But Ruthven instantly began to realize that what he had lost he might not have lost had he been free to shoulder aside the young fellow who had forestalled him. The chance had passed—that particular chance. But he'd never again allow himself to be caught in a position where such a chance could pass him by because he was not legally free to at least make the effort to seize it.

Fear in his soul had kept him from blazing his wife's infidelity to the world as cause for an action against her, but he remembered Neergard's impudent cruise with her on the Niagara, and he had temporarily settled on that as a means to extort revenge, not intending such an action should ever come to trial. And then he learned that Neergard had gone to pieces. That was the second check.

Ruthven needed money. He needed it because he meant to put the ocean between himself and Selwyn before commencing any suit, whatever ground he might choose for entering such a suit. He required capital on which to live abroad during the proceedings if that could be legally arranged. And meanwhile, preliminary to any plan of campaign, he desired to know where his wife was and what might be her actual physical and mental condition.

But Ruthven was totally unprepared for the report brought him by a private agency to the effect that Mrs. Ruthven was apparently in perfect health, living in the country, maintaining a villa and staff of servants; that she might be seen driving a perfectly appointed Cossack sleigh any day with a groom on the rumble and a companion beside her; that she seemed to be perfectly sane, healthy in body and mind, comfortable, happy and enjoying life under the protection of a certain Captain Selwyn, who paid all her bills and at certain times was seen entering or leaving her house at Edgewater.

Excited, incredulous, but hoping for the worst, Ruthven had posted off to his attorneys. To them he had confessed his desire to be rid of Alice. He reported her misconduct with Neergard—which he knew was a lie—her pretense of mental prostration, her disappearance and his last interview with Selwyn in the card room. He also gave a vivid description of that gentleman's disgusting behavior and his threats of violence during that interview.

To all of which his attorneys listened very attentively, bade him have no fear of his life, requested him to make several affidavits and leave the rest to them for the present.

Which he did, without hearing from them until Mr. Hallam telegraphed him to come to Edgewater if he had nothing better to do.

Mr. Hallam was a very busy, very sanguine, very impetuous young man, and when he met Ruthven at the Edgewater station he told him promptly that he had the best case on earth; that he, Hallam, was going to New York on the next train, now almost due, and that Ruthven had better drive over and see for himself how easily his wife maintained her house, kept his Cossack sleigh, with its gray ermine lining, had but just returned from the usual afternoon spin, and the young chateau of Willow Villa was now on the snow-covered lawn, romping with the coachman's huge white wolfhound. Ruthven drove to the villa.

There were clumps of evergreens about tall cedars, a bit of bushy foreland and a stretch of snow. And across this open space of snow a young girl was moving, followed by a white wolfhound. Once she paused, hesitated, looked cautiously around her. Ruthven, hiding behind a bush, saw her thrust her arm into a low evergreen shrub and draw out a shining object that glittered like glass. Then she started toward the house again.

At first Ruthven thought she was his wife. Then he was not sure, and he cast his eyes away and followed, thinking forward among the evergreens. But the youthful, fair child figure kept straight on to the veranda of the house, and Ruthven, curious and determined to find out whether it was Alice or not, left the semi-shelter of the evergreens and crossed the open space just as the woman's figure disappeared around an angle of the veranda.

Vexed, determined not to return without some definite discovery, Ruthven stepped upon the veranda. Just around the angle of the porch he heard a door opening, and he hurried forward, impatient and absolutely unafraid, anxious to get one good look at his wife and be off.

But when he turned the angle of the porch there was no one there. Only an open door confronted him, with a big, mild-eyed wolfhound standing in the doorway looking steadily up at him.

Ruthven glanced somewhat dubiously at the dog; then as the animal made no offensive movement he crossed his dusty deck striving to see inside the house.

He did see—nothing very much, only the same young girl, still in her fur, emerging from an inner room, her arms full of dolls.

In his eagerness to see more Ruthven pushed past the great white dog, who withdrew his head disdainfully from the unceremonious contact, but quietly followed Ruthven into the house, standing beside him, watching him out of great, limpid, deerlike eyes.

But Ruthven no longer heeded the dog. His amused and slightly sneering gaze was fastened on the girl in fur who had entered what appeared to be a living room to the right and now, down on her knees beside a couch, smiling and talking confidentially and quite happily to herself, was placing her dolls against the wall.

Then the great white dog growled very low, and the girl in the fur jacket looked around and up quickly.

Alice! He realized it as she caught his pale eyes fixed on her, and she stared, sprang to her feet, still staring.

But Ruthven instantly began to realize that what he had lost he might not have lost had he been free to shoulder aside the young fellow who had forestalled him. The chance had passed—that particular chance. But he'd never again allow himself to be caught in a position where such a chance could pass him by because he was not legally free to at least make the effort to seize it.

Fear in his soul had kept him from blazing his wife's infidelity to the world as cause for an action against her, but he remembered Neergard's impudent cruise with her on the Niagara, and he had temporarily settled on that as a means to extort revenge, not intending such an action should ever come to trial. And then he learned that Neergard had gone to pieces. That was the second check.

Ruthven needed money. He needed it because he meant to put the ocean between himself and Selwyn before commencing any suit, whatever ground he might choose for entering such a suit. He required capital on which to live abroad during the proceedings if that could be legally arranged. And meanwhile, preliminary to any plan of campaign, he desired to know where his wife was and what might be her actual physical and mental condition.

But Ruthven was totally unprepared for the report brought him by a private agency to the effect that Mrs. Ruthven was apparently in perfect health, living in the country, maintaining a villa and staff of servants; that she might be seen driving a perfectly appointed Cossack sleigh any day with a groom on the rumble and a companion beside her; that she seemed to be perfectly sane, healthy in body and mind, comfortable, happy and enjoying life under the protection of a certain Captain Selwyn, who paid all her bills and at certain times was seen entering or leaving her house at Edgewater.

Excited, incredulous, but hoping for the worst, Ruthven had posted off

